

As Prices Advance, Cotton in Georgia Reported Damaged

Rains and Cold Wave
Have Seriously Injured
Crop in Mid-State, Authorities Say.

PLANTING IN NORTH
NOW THREE WEEKS LATE

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Throughout Belt Cause Sensational
Rise in Prices.

BY MARION KENDRICK.
Coincident with the sensational advances Tuesday in cotton, which overshadowed a continued bull movement in stocks, The Constitution received authentic advice that the cotton crop in middle and south Georgia had been badly damaged and planting in north Georgia further delayed
on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

The damage in middle and south Georgia has been caused by recent rains and low temperature, retarding growth of cotton at least twenty days in some sections, it was stated.
In north Georgia, continued rains have thrown planting of the season's crop three weeks late.

"If the rains in middle Georgia
had not been accompanied with cold weather," said W. T. Taylor, state organizer of the Farmers' union, to whom The Constitution was referred by the state department of agriculture, "they would have been very beneficial, as they were needed."

Made Conditions Worse.
"Unfortunately, however, counties
in middle Georgia have been experiencing cold nights and cool mornings for about ten days, and the rains made conditions worse. Cotton already up appears withered, and unless a higher temperature and dry weather develop within the next few days, the damage will become much greater."

Mr. Taylor arrived in Atlanta Tuesday from an inspection trip which covered Laurens, Johnson, Treutlin, Wilkes, Telfair, Wheeler and Montgomery counties. In some sections of middle Georgia, he said, there are stretches of fine cotton, but even these face danger if present weather conditions continue. Already cotton growth has been retarded at least twenty days, he estimated.

Acting on instructions from The Constitution last week, L. O.
Moseley, of Dublin, has been making investigation of conditions in middle Georgia.

Flowed Up.
"In many places," he reported last night, "the leaves of cotton are withering and the stalk shows but little life on account of the cold weather,
thus resulting, if not in total death,
a 'stunting,' which many weeks of very favorable weather only can bring back to a normal stage."

"Already some of the cotton, unusually well advanced for this section, has been plowed up and either new crops of cotton planted or the acres prepared for corn. The damage to cotton is very heavy and unless modification of these adverse conditions comes within the next two or three days, the crop will be seriously menaced," he said.

The last reports of the United States bureau of markets and crop estimates, of Atlanta, showed that cotton planting in north Georgia had been delayed approximately two weeks. Conditions since this report was issued have not been favorable, with the exception of a few days. Dispatches indicate that farmers now are about three weeks late in starting their planting.

Prices Advance.
After many weeks of inactivity,
continued bad weather conditions
throughout the cotton belt, especially in Texas and Oklahoma, caused cotton to enter into substantial advances in both New York and New Orleans exchange Tuesday.

May sold up to 19.70, or 101
points net higher, with October at 19.05, compared with 18.28 Monday.
In the New York exchange, the general close was strong, net gains of 63 to 91 points being scored. Late trading brought a net gain in the general list of 72 to 101 points, or $3.00 to $5.05 per bale. These were lowered slightly on realizing.

The market was strictly one caused

Lord and Lady Astor Receive Invitations To Visit in Atlanta

Washington, May 2.—Following the receipt of a communication from Mrs.
B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, Senator Harris and Congressman Upshaw today issued invitations to Lord and Lady Astor to visit the Georgia city at some time before their return to England. The invitation was extended on behalf of the women's organizations of Atlanta.

The visiting notables are in Virginia
this week and a reply to the invitations will not be available for the next few days.

BOND COMMISSION LEANS TO JACKSON GIRLS' HIGH SITE

Withdrawal of Orphanage Site Leaves Only Park and Capitol Avenue to Choose From.

DECIDE LOCATION OF TWO SCHOOLS

Hutcheson Attacks Purchase of Piedmont Lots
for Boys' High—Says
City Was Robbed.

With the Hebrew orphanage property eliminated Tuesday as the proposed site for the Girls' High school
the Jackson tract at the south end of Grant park apparently came into favor with a majority of the bond commission. Directors of the orphanage property declined to sell.

Other school developments Tuesday
were as follows:
Concurrence by the bond commission and the board of education in the purchase for $18,500 of a tract of eight acres on East Fair street as the site for the new Faith Street elementary school.

Issuance of a statement by School
Commissioner Carl F. Hutcheson
charging that the city has been "literally robbed" of between $25,000 and $30,000 in the purchase of the Boys'
High school site fronting Piedmont park.

Announcement that the location for the negro senior-junior high school has been chosen. It is a tract of 34-34 acres near Morehouse college, colored, and is priced at approximately $30,000.

Decision of the orphanage directors
not to sell was communicated in a letter written Tuesday to W. W.
Gaines, president of the board of education, by Victor H. Kriegerhaber, president of the governing board of the institution.

Only Two Sites Left.
This left but two sites put forward
as considered seriously in the running.
Mayor Kibb, who had been supporting the orphanage site, switched to the Capitol avenue-Yantra street location of seventeen acres. This site is said to be the second choice of the Columbia university survey commission.

Frank M. Imman, chairman of the schools committee of the bond commission, stated at a meeting of the commission Tuesday afternoon that he expected there would be offers of at least three new sites before the end of the week.

Alexa Stirling Wants to Play For the A. A. C.

In Letter to Father, Former Champion Says She Will Enter National.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.
That Miss Alexa Stirling, national woman golf champion from 1916 until she lost the title last year, will enter both the national and the Canadian championship events this season, and if possible as the representative of the Atlanta Athletic club, her local affiliation, was announced yesterday by her father, Dr. A. W. Stirling, following receipt of a letter from Miss Stirling, who is at present in the bond business
in New York.

Due to the fact that Miss Stirling had accepted membership in several golf clubs in the metropolitan district,
it had been feared in Atlanta that she would carry the banner of one of the New York clubs. The report that she probably would not play as a member of the Atlanta Athletic club was sent out some time ago by New York news agencies and was printed locally before Miss Stirling could either affirm or deny it. She will represent the Cana-

WAR FINANCE ACT EXTENSION TO AID SOUTHERN FARMER

Hollins Randolph Declares Senate Action Points to Restoring Southern Prosperity.

ANOTHER BANKING AGENCY IS URGED

Federal Agricultural-Live Stock Bank Proposal by Simmons Is Indorsed by Georgians.

Passage by the United States senate Monday of a bill extending for one year the war finance corporation will mean restoration of prosperity to the south and enable the farmers to obtain funds with which to raise crops during the ensuing year, according to Hollins N.
Randolph, prominent Atlanta attorney, who represented the interests of the states of Georgia and Florida in having the bill brought up for consideration in the senate.

The bill now goes to the house of representatives for action and little doubt but that it will be favorably passed is expressed by those responsible for its passage in the senate.

Since its reorganization in the summer of 1921 as one of the first and most important measures by the Har-dington administration, after having been dissolved shortly after the world war, the war finance corporation has been of service to the south where in Georgia alone its loans to farmers and business men have totaled almost $100,000,000. With the federal reserve system limited in its assistance to farmers and banks, the extension of the war finance corporation for another year will result in millions of dollars being available for loans to those dependent upon it to carry on their work.

Randolph Is Pleased.
Mr. Randolph, who has been most active in representing Georgia's and Florida's interests, and who recently returned from an extended business trip to Washington where he succeeded in inducing Senator William J. Harris and Senator McNamara, of Nevada, to bring up the bill in the senate for extension, was highly gratified at the favorable action taken in the upper house Monday.
In a statement with regard to the significance of the senate's action
Mr. Randolph declared:

"This news will be exceedingly welcome to thousands of farmers
all over the state and to a great many bankers and business men as well. Few realize the tremendous part the war finance corporation has played in the restoration of normal conditions, not only in Georgia and the south, but in the west as well."

Through it, the government has already made loans of upwards of three hundred and thirty million dollars to various banking and financial institutions in the country, located almost entirely in the agricultural sections. These loans to these banking and financial institutions served to very greatly relieve and lessen
the tension they were under the whole of last year and up until the present time. It is believed by many that they were enabled thereby to extend new credits and loans to the farmers in the south and west, thus

U. S. TREASURY IS SCENE OF FIRE

Washington Departmental Building In Grip of Spectacular Flames
Early Wednesday Morning.

Washington, May 3.—Fire was discovered early today on the roof of the Treasury building. A few minutes after the first alarm the flames were leaping twenty feet in the air
above a superstructure being constructed on the roof of the old building.

Following an explosion of chemicals stored where the fire originated,
the flames appeared to be rapidly gaining headway. Four alarms had been turned in fifteen minutes after the fire was discovered.

Several smaller explosions occurred
in quick succession as the flames rose to a height of thirty or forty feet and appeared to be enveloping
the entire central portion of the roof.
Sparks from the fire were being swept by a light southeast wind in the general direction of the white house, but it was believed that that structure was in no danger.

Thirty minutes after the fire began
was lighting up the entire downtown section of the city, casting a dull light over the white house and the Washington monument.

Attempting Suicide, Former Atlanta Girl Held for Murder

Mrs. Violet Black Duncan, former Atlanta girl, who is being held for murder in Chicago for the death of her three-year-old nephew which resulted from an ineffectual attempt at suicide.

Mrs. Violet Black Duncan, young woman arrested Tuesday in Chicago on a charge of murder in connection with the asphyxiation Saturday of her three-year-old nephew, had ambitions to become a moving picture star
at the time she lived in Atlanta last January, inquiry developed Tuesday afternoon. The death of the child resulted, Chicago reports say, from an attempt by Mrs. Duncan to kill herself.

Very little seems to be known of Mrs. Duncan in Atlanta. During January of this year she boarded for one week at 52 Duane de Leon avenue. Occupants of that residence state that the young woman worked for a concern in the Georgia Savings Bank building at the time she resided there.
They stated she had given them no intimation as to where she had formerly lived.

She often expressed a wish to have an opportunity of demonstrating her talents at acting for moving pictures.
She attended a moving picture training school in the Forsyth building for a time, it is said.

Helped Federal Agents.
Mrs. Duncan is said to have furnished valuable information to federal authorities at the time the check fraud at the Veterans' bureau was unearthed, resulting in the arrest of several men.

Although dispatches telling of the young woman's arrest in Chicago stated she had been divorced from Walter E. Duncan, Atlanta traveling man, Fulton county records disclo-

Glitter of Gold To Dazzle City Prosperity Week

Brains, Brawn and Beauty of Atlanta to Take Part in Grand Opening Pageant.

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF.

Prominent Atlantans, the citizens
whose names appear in the papers
each day as leaders of those movements to send the city onward and upward, the captains of finance, the barons of industry, the limbs of the law, the myrmidons of materi medica,
the lords of labor, the earls of education, the men and women who are as familiar to the readers of the society pages as Five Points, are all going to don the baskinis, or the habili-ments of heraldry, or the mantles of Morus or the trappings of motley, to celebrate the opening of Progress and Prosperity week, May 29 to June 3.

Plans were announced Tuesday by the leaders of the associated civic clubs back of this celebration for a great carnival parade, in all likelihood to open the celebration to be followed by a costume ball at the Auditorium, just such a ball as attended the old Harvest festivals of a decade or so ago.

Reckless Expenditures.
The plans contemplate making this pageant the grandest, greatest, gathering of golden glitter ever glimpsed in Georgia, anywhere else for that matter. A reckless expenditure, as the press agents say, to make it live long in the memories of the city-dwellers that will mingle in hospitable Atlanta during that period, has not been spared.

A contract has been closed for a complete reproduction of the great Parade of the last New Orleans Mardi Gras, considered the most brilliant ever staged in the old

into a conspiracy with her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Brown, just prior to the killing, to balk court efforts of Mr.

he had turned over to her, was intimat-

NEW-BEVERIDGE RACE IN INDIANA APPEARS CLOSE

Indianapolis, May 2.—Senator Har-

republican nomination for the senate
on the face of early returns from Tuesday's primary.

Complications from 158 widely scattered precincts throughout the state

The returns received thus far are declared to be representative of the sentiment of every district in the state, including 10 precincts in Marion coun-

Wayne county, the Beveridge stronghold, and from Montgomery county,
which is claimed by the New forces.

CAPITAL AND LABOR UNITED IN STRUGGLE

Gompers Will Address
Anti-Prohibition Mass Meeting in Madison

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau,

Washington, May 2.—(By Constitution Leased Wire).—Following the introduction today in the house, by Congressman Anson, of New York,
of two joint resolutions seeking to amend the eighteenth amendment and to submit the question of light wines
and beer to a national referendum, it became known that not only the most powerful lobby ever attached to Washington is now here in the interest of modifying the Volstead act, but that two distinct nation-wide associations have been organized here within the last few days to carry the question to the ballot box next fall
at least half the states of the union.

One of the joint resolutions by Anson today proposes an amendment to the eighteenth amendment by adding a new section which would expressly provide that the words "intoxicating liquor" do not include 2 3-4 per cent beer, manufactured and sold under government regulation and control. The other proposed amendment would permit of the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer under government regulation and control.
An additional section to the joint resolutions provides that the state legislatures shall not vote upon the proposed amendments until after the people shall have voted for the members of the state legislature which will vote on the amendments.

Propaganda Flood Begins.
The two associations just formed
here are "The National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment"
and "The American Rational League." Both organizations have opened extensive offices, and great forces of men and women are flooding the country with propaganda alleging the abuses of prohibition, the failure of enforcement and the increase of the drug habits incident to "The reign of the bootlegging."

It is also announced today that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will not only address the large anti-prohibition meeting to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, tomorrow,
May 3, but will be one of those comprising the New York committee,
which include:

Stand Together, Men! Let's Keep Our Own Razors

Though Clothiers Report Sartorial Invasion by Women, Men Still Have Rights!

Chicago, May 2.—What Julius Caesar really meant when he uttered that immortal line "Two can live as cheaply as one," was that, in 1922, both husband and wife could wear the same clothes.

And, despite the laughter of his short-sighted auditors of that morning on the Rubicon, the red-headed emperor was right, as fashion leaders
at the convention of the United National Clothiers' association convention here can tell you.

The sign on the door, "Gents' Furnishings," don't mean anything any more, they say.

Women, according to W. L. Mohr, secretary, are buying all kinds of men's clothes for themselves.

Heaven Forbid!
They are buying knickers, hundreds of them; they are buying men's felt hats; men's shirts and soft collars
and string ties for their own wear.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Peking, May 2.—Heavy cannonading was in progress today at various points along the front extending from Machang, south of Tientsin, across the country to the vicinity of Peking.
Severe fighting occurred at a point along the Hun Ho river, thirty miles south of this city, where 40,000 troops of General Wu Pei-Fu, the central Chinese leader, endeavored to force
a crossing in order to gain control of the Peking-Tientsin railroad.

General Chang Tso-Lin, governor of Mandchuria, and head of the opposing forces, from his headquarters near Tien-Tsin, ordered trains to convey the main body of his 100,000 soldiers
to the front south of the great wall.
Two Manchurian airplanes flew over Tientsin and proceeded westward.

Planes Drop Bombs.
Later airplanes dropped bombs near the station at Hwangtung, only a short distance from here.

Advices received by military attaches here said that Wu Pei-Fu was sending troops northward at the greatest possible speed.

Fifty thousand of his troops, concentrated at Pao Tsin, are being reinforced from the Yangtze provinces.
Twenty thousand others, recruited from Shanghai, are marching against Chang Tso-Lin's southeastern stronghold at Machang.

Two thousand dead and wounded
were found on the field after the battle at Chang Shien, outside of Peking. The booming of cannon was heard in Peking all last night, but the cannonading ceased this morning.

Despite the continuation of trench warfare, many foreigners, including legation guards, went outside the city to view the hostilities.

American Marine Shot.
Corporal Mason, an American marine from Colorado, was shot in the arm but was not seriously wounded.

French employees at the locomotive works at Chang Shien narrowly escaped when a bomb dropped from an airplane, destroyed the works.

General Wu Pei-Fu is continuing to send troops west of Peking in an endeavor to envelop General Chang's northwestern wing. This precipitated fighting which lasted all night at Fengtai, ten miles from Peking.

Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, was due to arrive in Peking today.

ATLANTA DOCTOR DIES OF POISON

Found Dead in Own Laboratory Tuesday Evening—Had Been Experimenting With Poisons.

Dr. St. Joseph B. Graham, 55 years old, well-known physician of Atlanta, of 128 Juniper street, died shortly before 7 o'clock Tuesday night under puzzling circumstances. The police advance the theory that he took poison by mistake while working in his laboratory at the residence.
Coroner Donehoe and city detectives, questioned Mrs. Graham as to the events which occurred shortly before his death. She said that Dr.
Graham had been working as usual
in the laboratory, and that he went to the kitchen and returned with a glass and spoon. A few minutes later
she passed by the door of his laboratory and found that he had collapsed in a chair.

Calling in the neighbors, she attempted to revive him, but he died within a short time without regaining consciousness.
Dr. Graham is said to have been taking a tonic which was labeled "Glycerophosphate Soda and Lime."
He had also been preparing an antitoxin Tuesday in his laboratory.

But Memorandum Is Forwarded to Soviet Delegation, Despite Break in Allied Front.

DISASTER IS FEARED AS RESULT OF SPLIT

Belgium Withdraws Offer of Aid to Restore Russ
to Prosperity, and France Reserves Decision.

BY RALPH H. TURNER.
Genoa, May 2.—An unexpected split of a most serious nature appeared in the allied Genoa front just before the new memorandum containing the plan for Russian restoration was handed to the soviet delegation.
France and Belgium refused to sign the proposals and Belgium withdrew the offer of aid she made in the consortium plan contained in the preamble of the note.

This split, the most serious that has arisen so far, will prove extremely disastrous, it is feared. Premier Lloyd George is amazed and angered by this development, which came with dramatic suddenness just when everyone thought the allies had at last been brought together.

Sudden Development.
Until a few hours ago, it was expected that every allied nation would sign the Russian memorandum. The French first explained that they did not feel free to sign the note formally until instructions had been received from Paris. It was not until Belgium refused to sign and dispatched a note to President Fa-a withdrawing all offers they had made in the preamble
for joining in the Russian consortium,
that the failure of France to sign appeared significant.

No: The British and Italians fear that the two other powers are working in complete understanding with each other. Although it is too early to predict the effect of this latest development, it is almost certain to make a settlement of the Russian problem impossible for the present, especially since the soviet themselves show no disposition to accept such terms as the allies have thus far proposed.
They would hardly be expected to seriously consider the new memorandum
in view of the fact that two of the most important nations in the allied group refused to sign it.

Withdraws Aid.
Belgium had promised, in the preamble of the note, to subscribe four million pounds sterling toward the Russian consortium.

Whether France also will withdraw her offers remains to be seen.

Making a desperate effort to get a united front, Lloyd George, just before the memorandum was completed, finally but reluctantly accepted a minor amendment proposed by the French, explaining that it would increase the chances of rejection by the Russians but that failure to agree would jeopardize the pacification of eastern Europe and result in a dangerous regrouping of the powers.

Russ to Reject.
Even before the allies transmitted their memorandum, the Russians,
through Rakowsky, their press spokesman, announced flatly it would be unacceptable because it "infringes on Russia's sovereignty." The soviet, he said, might agree to some of the minor points of the allies plan, but the mixed tribunal proposed to decide on payment of debts and restoration of confiscated property, denies Russia her right to say what property can be expropriated for national needs, and is utterly unacceptable.

The allied memorandum, Rakowsky declared, is an effort to restore Russia to the old regime of individual capitalism.

Brings Despair.

"We did not come here to fight capitalism, and we won't permit others to fight our system," the soviet delegate said.

This apparently irreconcilable attitude of the soviet, when communicated to the allied delegates, brought expressions of despair. Russia's refusal to accept the allied plan, they declared, means that it will be years before the problem can be settled.

Lloyd George and the British delegates were particularly depressed over the prospective rejection of the allied plan by the soviet. This, with the departure of Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation, for Paris, gave a pessimistic turn to the day's developments.

Just before he left, Barthou conferred with Lloyd George, who declared to the French delegate that if Russia refuses to accept the allied plan it will be impossible to take up the non-aggression pact at Genoa.

This and the Russian settlement were the two big accomplishments Lloyd George sought at Genoa.

Seeking New Way.

Tchitcherin, apparently seeking to office the unfavorable impression which his rejection of the allied construction plan is bound to produce, is now proclaiming Russia's eagerness to assist in removing the causes of war recently pointed out by Lloyd George.

In a note to the allied minister Schanzer, of Italy, Tchitcherin declared that the peace of the world is threatened by numerous boundary encroachments, most of them against Russia. These ought to be straightened out at Genoa, the soviet chief thinks.

Accuses Japan.

His note protested that Japan is dispatching fresh troops to Siberia in preparation for a new attack. He also warns that the Poles are occupying Russian territory in the Vilna region and the Rumanians in Bessarabia, both situations being potential causes of bloodshed.

Wranzel, he says, is being backed by other powers in a new interventionist move in the Ukraine. Tchitcherin warns that there will be fierce fighting there and in many other parts of the eastern world unless all nations at Genoa earnestly endeavor to create a peace.

He announced Russia's willingness to enter into discussions looking to settlement of disputes, frontiers and other questions which contain the seeds of future wars.

previously been used as a container for the sodium nitrate.

An analysis of the stomach has been ordered by Coroner Doneho, who will continue the investigation. Detectives Brown and Hornsby are also working on the case.

Dr. Graham was one of the south's most distinguished medical men. He was recognized as an authority on pellagra and had specialized as a bacteriologist and pathologist.

Less than ten days ago he was elected a member of the Royal Society of Public Health, of London, England. It is very few Americans who are thus honored and he is the only southern man ever to be so honored. He had long been an active member of the American Medical association.

Several years ago Dr. Graham was decorated by the United States and Canadian governments for risking his life to save 21 men from the Canadian bark Mary E. Chapman, which was wrecked off the Atlantic coast near Savannah, Ga. The physician ventured out to the wrecked boat in another bark and was instrumental in saving the entire crew.

Dr. Graham was born in Harrisburg, Ky., and was the son of Dr. C. C. Graham, a noted philanthropist, geologist and physician, who lived to be 100 years of age. Dr. Graham was graduated from the University of Louisville before he was 21 years of age and afterwards graduated in New York and Heidelberg, Germany. He also took a special course at Harvard university.

Dr. and Mrs. Graham moved to Atlanta in 1917. They purchased a home on North Boulevard. In the great conflagration that year their home was destroyed. After moving to a number of addresses they settled three years ago at 126 Juniper street.

With the exception of his wife, Dr. Graham had no immediate relatives. Pending funeral arrangements the body was moved to the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

TWO RESOLUTIONS TO AMEND PROHIBITION

Holland, of the New York Federation of Labor, who will be the permanent presiding officer.

It is thus pointed out that "labor and capital" for the first time has found a common ground upon which to stand in the present movement.

There is no disputing the fact that the wet and dry issue will loom large in many of the congressional races now pending with a rapidly growing sentiment in favor of either a more rigid law enforcement or the adoption of more liberal amendments to the existing act so that the incentive for the bootleg industry may be crushed.

In the south, however, the issue will not be a potential one, and whatever

PRESSLEY C. CASH BURIED IN HART

Hartwell, Ga., May 2.—(Special.) Pressley C. Cash, 79, one of Hart county's most prominent citizens, died yesterday afternoon. He was an ex-confederate soldier and a member of the Baptist church.

His remains were interred at Cedar Creek cemetery this afternoon.

The deceased is survived by widow and four sons.

by weather conditions. In Oklahoma, wet and cold weather has caused cotton to rot in the fields, a condition which may exist in Georgia on a large scale if the present weather continues.

Atlanta, Spots 18.35.

In New Orleans, the greatest gains of many months and largest volume of trading in weeks were recorded as the result of the same galling circumstances. An active market was in force from the opening on with positions making advances of approximately $4 per bale at their best. During the last trading, July stood at 18.55 and October at 18.63, new high records for the present bull movement. The market closed at net advances of 75 to 82 points.

Spots in New Orleans were at 17.67, an advance of 75 points. New York spots gained 95 points, being 19.90. Atlanta were at 18.35, ninety-five points higher.

In the stock market, the opening was active with the recovery movement still in force, but there were frequent periods of relapses on smaller dealings.

In late trading, Studebaker, Baldwin, coppers and Mexican Petroleum registered their maximum prices of the day with gains from one to three points. Associated Oil met a rise of seven points, featuring the trading. Total sales were approximately 1,100,000 shares.

In Montrie Territory.
Montrie, Ga., May 2.—(Special.) The unseasonably cold weather prevailing in this section for the past several days has damaged considerably the cotton crop in the Montrie territory, according to farm experts here.

They also point out that cotton unlike most other farm products, when stunted by cold does not ever fully get over the injury thus caused. Planting was finished in this section before the end of March and most of the crop has been plowed and chopped.

Savannah Section.
Savannah, Ga., May 2.—(Special.) Investigation of cotton crop conditions in this section of the state indicate that the damage suffered by plants on account of cold weather and recent rains has been less than in Middle Georgia, and unless the cold wave continues no serious loss will develop. Farmers planted earlier this season, the well developed condition of plants prevented heavy damage.

RAILROADS FIGHT RATE REDUCTION

The state railroad commission spent the major portion of its time Tuesday in hearing evidence in the fight being waged by railroads to prevent the commission from putting into effect revised class rates on cotton, grain and grain products, which the carriers claim would mean a big reduction in short hauls. The hearing will be continued further.

The commission ordered the new rates on March 15, fifty-one carriers in the state immediately protesting on the ground that the order was not in accordance with rulings of the interstate commerce commission and that the state railroad commission did not give the carriers notice in order that they might appear in opposition to the move. The order was thereupon rescinded by the state commission and legal notice of the present hearing was served on the railroads.

The commission has also continued, until a date to be set within the course of the next few days, the hearing on a rule nisi issued by the commission requiring the Southern Bell Telephone company to show cause why phone rates in Georgia should not be revised. A mass of evidence of the company has been taken by the commission, which discontinued the hearing until a later date in order that towns and cities affected may prepare their arguments in favor of lower rates.

A feature of the statement of the telephone company was the claim that the Atlanta exchange is one of the least profitable in Georgia, earning only 3.9 per cent on the reproduction cost of properties here. A mass of figures covering operating costs, value of properties and revenues on plants in this city, Savannah, Augusta, Macon and Columbus, as well as of the state at large, were submitted by J. M. B. Hoxey, vice president of the company.

Upon the submission of the complete evidence, Hunt Chipley, attorney for the company, stated that the Southern Bell would have nothing further to submit, but would gladly answer any question or submit any additional data requested by the commission or the public generally.

In the hearing on the revised class rates, Henry Thurtell, of Washington, general counsel for the association of carriers, conducted the case for the railroads and broadly intimated that the roads are prepared to carry their contentions to the supreme court. Mr. Thurtell especially contended that rates on cotton are not within the jurisdiction of the state railroad commission as the interstate commerce commission has promulgated rates on this commodity.

FILMS CONFERENCE FINDINGS INDORSED

H. T. Jones, head of the public relations department of the Southern Enterprises, consisting of more than 150 motion picture theaters in the south, in a letter Tuesday to Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, chairman of the committee on findings of the Southern Conference for Better Films, which recently held a meeting here, expressed approval of the report of the committee for its policy recommendations that all films be presented before the National Board of Review before being exhibited in motion picture theaters.

Extracts from Mr. Jones' letter are as follows: "We wish to express our deepest appreciation of the sympathetic and earnest manner in which the conference approached its task and in which the findings and recommendations accomplished its work. May we add that this is the first time that a group of men and women, representing southern communities, has made a serious and effective effort to understand our problems and to render constructive aid in solving them. The conference spirit was exceedingly significant and strikes a responsive chord throughout our industry. May it serve as an example of constructive endeavor to others."

"We accept, and will give our utmost to abide by, your recommendations, as carried in paragraph 1 to 5 inclusive. "Officers of the Southern Enterprises, Inc., and subsidiary companies, authorize the statement that they are providing that all pictures be submitted to the national board of review before being exhibited, will be strictly adhered to by all theaters operated under our supervision."

"Further, that paragraph 6, relative to standards of production, will be observed and supported in so far as it is possible for theaters to enforce its provisions and that we will exert whatever influence we may have in the field of production in this direction."

"Your other recommendations will receive our wholehearted support and the community desires of applying them will receive our co-operation wherever we supervise the operation of theaters in the southern states."

WILL REVIVE LOCAL EXPORT ASSOCIATION

A meeting of Atlanta manufacturers and exporters will be held at 7 o'clock next Tuesday evening in the breakfast room at the Kimball house to discuss export prospects and reorganize a local export association. It was announced Tuesday by J. E. Adickes, assistant secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and head of the local foreign and domestic commerce bureau of the chamber.

Governor Thomas W. Hardwick and Mayor James L. Key have been invited to attend the dinner, which will be presided over by Harry Mitchell, widely known manufacturer. Invitation has also been extended to Ralph H. Ackerman, of Washington, chief of the division of Latin-American affairs, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, who was a visitor in Atlanta Monday.

Mr. Ackerman visited a number of exporters while in the city for the purpose of stimulating interest in foreign trade with South American and other neighboring countries. He expressed himself as pleased over the outlook for establishing in the south a large foreign trade with these countries.

Accompanying Mr. Ackerman on his tour of the southern states is E. D. Stratton, of Chattanooga, Tenn., manager of the co-operative office bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The two left Atlanta Tuesday morning for South Carolina. It is anticipated that they will return in time for the meeting Tuesday night next.

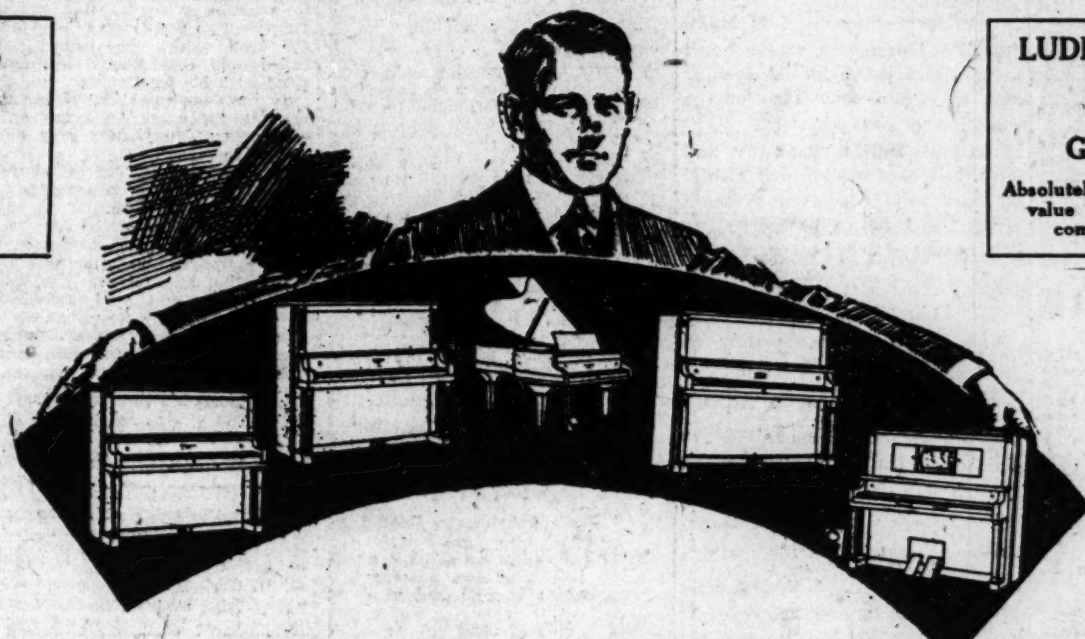

Two years ago Mr. Ackerman visited Atlanta on a similar mission. He stated that he was highly gratified at the change in conditions locally with regard to export trade in that time.

WILL RESUME HEARING IN TANLAC CASE TODAY

Continued illness of Judge W. D. Ellis, of Fulton superior court, resulted in another postponement Tuesday of the hearing on the bill in equity brought by S. C. Satterthwaite against E. A. Lynch involving 25,000 shares in International Transportation, Inc., owners of Tanlac. The suit is scheduled for resumption this morning.

places never shelter a Frenchman.

In our casinos, around the green

baize-covered tables, one never sees

a Frenchman. On our race courses, in the owners' paddock, the number of Frenchmen can be counted on the fingers of one hand."

While it is pointed out that wealthy foreign visitors are particularly welcome, because their money helps in the rebuilding process, what the honest, hard-working Frenchman asks is that

"those privileged visitors would not notice that no French men and women

are to be found in the haunts

of luxury and realize that the French really and truly are in a bad way and need some kind of reparation."

"Perhaps," writes one well-known publicist, "foreigners who see the surrealistic art of the French

may gain some idea of the condition of our poor."

It is this self-denying spirit and individual hard work which will be the most helpful factor in France's present and future prosperity, as it is in that of every other country.

THE ENGINEERS.

The annual spring meeting of the American Society of Mechanical

Engineers, to be held in Atlanta

next week, May 8-11, inclusive, gives promise of being a convention of unusual significance in point of its influence upon the industrial activities of Atlanta and the south.

It will bring to this city a large number of the foremost mechanical engineers from all parts of the country, representative of the national organization comprising a membership of 16,000.

These men who make the machinery go; and they are as indispensable to the industrial life

and the general prosperity of the nation as are the structural or civil engineers or the men who furnish the capital with which to finance our industrial and commercial enterprises.

At this convention the development of engineering interest in industrial problems affecting the progress and welfare of the whole country will be discussed in a construction way by the leading engineers of the country, and the effect is certain to be far reaching in its influence. As announced by Cotton, an Atlanta publication devoted to the cotton industry, "the sessions will embrace the textile,

steel and power industries as well

as southern management problems,

a field in which the engineer is an increasingly important factor."

This will be the first meeting of the society held in the south since its convention in New Orleans in 1916; and the advertising value

that will accrue to this section by reason of its industrial growth and progress being brought to national attention in this way is a matter of more than ordinary importance.

For the master minds in mechanics to come from the textile and industrial centers of the east, north and west and swap ideas and suggestions with those of the south is bound to prove beneficial all round.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the social entertainment of the small army of delegates and their wives and daughters who will be the guests of Atlanta from next Monday until Friday; and the entire community will, of course,

see to it that their visit to the business, industrial and commercial

capital of the south is a thoroughly enjoyable and profitable one from every standpoint.

Russia says to the allies, in the friendly sort of way: "Have you

a couple of billions about you that I could use for 30-odd years, or so?"

Asked in regard to a rumor of his retirement from active business, Chauncey Dewey replied:

"No. I am only 38."

Evidently the big fish are not afflicted with spring fever, for they're still able to run away with the line.

We agree with the shivering

weather man that it's a long, cold road to summer.

It will be worth while if Lloyd

George gets peace by threatening

another war.

THREE WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

Rome, Ga., May 2.—The story of a night attack by alleged moonshiners at a still on the border of Floyd and Gordon counties in which three men were wounded, and another believed to have been killed was told here today by federal and county officers who brought in two wounded prisoners.

Deputy Sheriff Metcalf, of Gordon, who was thought to have been killed, returned to Calhoun early today with a still he had captured.

A. J. Spence, head prohibition officer in this section, and Deputy United States Marshal Goding found a still late yesterday and decided to remain on the spot during the night to wait for the operators to return. Getting cold late in the night they built a fire and lay down.

Shortly afterwards footsteps were heard and the officers sprang to their feet to find themselves facing seven men armed with pistols. Disregarding a cry of "hands up," they opened fire, they said, dropping to the ground as they shot.

Spence was hit in the right side and J. G. Adams and Oscar Studdart, both of Rome, were wounded and taken prisoners. Adams suffered a broken leg and Studdart was struck in the side but not seriously hurt. Another man who fell was dragged away in the retreat of the attackers and Spence said he thought he might have been killed.

Women to Help In Home-Own- ing Exposition Here

When the "Own Your Home" exposition opens its doors at the Auditorium next week to give prospective home owners an opportunity for discovering just exactly what are the possibilities for them to erect a home after their own ideas and dreams, the women of the city are going to have a most prominent part in the proceedings.

The entire day Wednesday will be turned over to the home economics department of the Atlanta Woman's club, and the day will be known officially as "Woman's Club Day."

Mrs. Newton G. Wing, chairman of the home economics department of the club, will be in charge, and she, together with the various members of her committee, have arranged a most elaborate program.

There will be a large room off the lobby fitted up especially for the ladies who are to attend. Mrs. J. E. Carline will be the hostess in charge of this room, and she will exhibit the work of the department will be shown here.

In addition to this, special demonstrations will be staged in many of the leading booths. In connection with the Georgia Railway and Power company's booth, special cooking demonstrations will be held on equipment furnished by the company. In a number of the electrical displays, similar demonstrations of various phases of home work will be given by the ladies.

An elaborate evening program is being worked out, the feature of which will be an address at 8 o'clock to be delivered by H. G. Hill, manager of the "Own Your Home" committee of the Atlanta Real Estate board, of which R. W. Evans is chairman. Additional exhibits and special stunts are being added daily.

The latest and one of the most attractive developments occurred Tuesday, when it was announced that Mrs. William Lyott, the well-known local dealer in fine china and art works, will give to the lucky winner of the house and lot, which is being offered, a complete dinner service in white and gold monogram design.

To secure the set, it will be necessary for each contestant to register at the Lyott booth, which will be given over to a very handsome display of china, pottery, art objects and similar items for home decoration.

Hardwick Reported To Favor Reduction
In Rail Commission

Said to have taken the stand that the move would cut expenses of the state and that the interstate commerce commission has assumed much of the activity of the state railroad commission, unconfirmed reports were circulated Tuesday that Governor Hardwick plans to recommend to the next general assembly a reduction of the membership of the state commission from five to three.

The reports stated that the salaries of the commissioners are $3,000 per year and that of the chairman $5,000. Members of the commission said Tuesday night that the governor had not consulted with them in connection with the move, if he contemplates it. The governor has made no public statement with reference to the matter.

STAMP COLLECTION OFFERED FOR SALE

A valuable collection of United States and colonial stamps is being offered for sale by R. Edward Sharp, who will offer the stamps for inspection at apartment 2, 167 1/2 Whitehall street. The collection, which includes of complete sets of stamps, has been appraised at a value of $1,000, but will be sold for $600.

The collection was exhibited at the Atlanta Stamp club headquarters recently. It is said to be one of the most complete of its kind in the United States.

LOCAL CHURCH TO HAVE TAG DAY ON SATURDAY

For the purpose of securing funds to be devoted toward erection of the new building at the corner of South Boulevard and Dabney street, the membership, congregation and friends of the Grant Park Methodist church are to conduct a tag sale Saturday.

A new building is under construction, and when completed will be one of the most modern in the city, furnishing special advantages for its rapidly growing Sunday school.

B. Y. P. U. DELEGATES GO TO CARROLLTON

Attending the second annual central western regional B. Y. P. U. convention, are approximately fifty representatives of the Baptist Young People's unions of the city, who leave from the Terminal station in a special car at 8:55 this morning, for Carrollton, Ga., where the convention will be held. More than 250 Baptist young people, representing B. Y. P. U.'s in seventeen Georgia Baptist associations are expected to attend the convention.

The sessions to be held in Carrollton will begin this afternoon at 3 o'clock and continue through Thursday evening. This convention is said to be a preliminary meeting to the Georgia B. Y. P. U. convention to be held in Athens, Ga., during the latter part of June.

Services will be in charge of W. N. Nichols, who will lead in the singing. An unusual feature of the convention will be the sunrise service which will be held at 6 o'clock Thursday morning.

DISABLED VETERANS ELECT NEW HEADS

Officers of the Disabled War Veterans of the World war were elected at their first state convention, held April 29, in the hall of the Atlanta Business college, 34 1/2 Luckie street. Commander Byron R. Patton, presiding.

Those elected were L. S. Fries, Atlanta, state commander; J. W. Tarter, Macon, state vice commander; J. W. Craig, Atlanta, junior vice commander; John T. Ellington, Atlanta, state adjutant; Perry L. Williams, Atlanta, junior adjutant; A. G. Westbrook, Atlanta, state treasurer; C. B. Griffin, state chaplain.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING FOR CITY FAVORED
BY ANALYSIS CLUB

The Edward L. Hawk Character Analysis club Tuesday night went on record as unanimously endorsing the movement now under way in Atlanta to have the clock set forward an hour during this summer. A meeting of the club was held in the Peachtree Arcade.

The latest and one of the most attractive developments occurred Tuesday, when it was announced that Mrs. William Lyott, the well-known local dealer in fine china and art works, will give to the lucky winner of the house and lot, which is being offered, a complete dinner service in white and gold monogram design.

TWO-CENT INCREASE IN GASOLINE PRICE

Following a 2-cent increase per gallon in the price of gasoline at the majority of Atlanta filling stations, the commodity was retailing Tuesday at 27 cents, wholesale price being 25 cents.

Increased use of gas with the advent of warm weather, and a slight scarcity of crude oil were given as reasons for the increase.

TO RUSH PENSIONS FOR CONFEDERATES

The possibility that the remainder of the 1922 confederate pensions may be paid by June 1 was expressed yesterday by Captain W. J. Speer, state treasurer. Captain Speer gave as his reason for the early settlement, the expected receipt by the state of $330,000 in oil inspection fees, which has been held up in court litigation.

The United States supreme court has recently upheld the law which was contested by the oil companies, and F. H. Moll, assistant oil inspector, who has been engaged in the fees, will turn this sum over to the state as soon as a formal order from the court is received.

The balance of the pension fund, it is expected, will be realized from inheritance taxes on the J. B. White estate of Augusta. The second pension fund amounts in round figures to $800,000.

ASKS CO-OPERATION FOR PHONE SERVICE

An appeal for co-operation on the part of the public with the employees of the Southern Bell Telephone company, to secure 100 per cent efficiency in handling calls, was made by C. C. Bowdon, district manager of the Southern Bell Telephone company, who addressed the members of the Lions club at the regular weekly luncheon held at 1 o'clock Tuesday at the Piedmont hotel. A second feature of the luncheon meeting was a practical demonstration of how a call is put through by the telephone operators.

Mr. Bowdon told the Lions that with the help of the patrons of the telephone company it is believed that the agencies in placing calls can be cut down practically to the zero point. He gave a summary of facts relative to the operation of the company here, telling of the 120,000 miles of copper wire used in Atlanta and other interesting features.

Visitors, among whom were several of the operators of the company, were introduced by Press Hueston. The meeting was presided over by J. R. Regnas.

Scottish Rite Masons
Holding Twenty-Fifth
General Convocation

Scottish Rite Masons of the Valley of Atlanta opened their twenty-fifth general convocation in their apartments, Masonic temple, Tuesday morning with a class of sixty-five candidates, and during the day the degrees from the fourth to fourteenth were conferred or communicated. Dinner was served in the banquet hall at 7:30, after which the fourteenth degree was conferred in full form.

The convocation will continue during four days, terminating Friday night when the class has received the thirty-second degree and the members are made masters of the royal secret. The convocation serves as a reunion for Masons who have taken the

ATLANTA SINGER IS COMPLIMENTED BY OPERA STAR

When Giovanni Martinelli, of the Metropolitan opera company, was here last week, he asked for a private appearance of Miss Madeleine Hauff, young coloratura soprano, of Atlanta, and last Saturday Miss Hauff appeared before him, singing several selections which she will sing tonight from WGM for The Constitution's radio service.

Only Miss Hauff's parents were with her at the time of this private appearance before the Metropolitan tenor.

His criticism of her singing consisted chiefly of the laconic statement: "Very soon I hope to sing opposite you on the Metropolitan stage."

Mr. Martinelli also complimented the Rev. Dr. W. H. Hauff, Miss Hauff's father, on his accompaniment on the piano.

Mr. Martinelli emphasized to Miss Hauff the need of consistent study and practice. He talked earnestly with Mrs. Hauff on this phase of successful music.

J. M. High Company Has Opened Offices
In Paris and Berlin

Buying representatives of the J. M. High company, one of Atlanta's leading mercantile establishments, have opened up foreign offices in Paris and Berlin, according to dispatches received here Tuesday from W. H. Brittain, president of the company, who is supervising the purchase of goods at present to replenish the stock of imported merchandise which the company carries.

Before returning to the United States, Mr. Brittain, who is accompanied by J. E. Collier, a member of the merchandising department, will visit Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, England, Scotland and Ireland, it is said.

Mr. Bernard, at 7 Rue de Metz, Paris, will be in charge of the foreign department, through which the company will purchase goods direct from Paris, instead of through New York. A special department is being constructed on the fourth floor of the J. M. High company building on Whitehall street, to furnish space for a stock of valuable Oriental rugs.

Savannah Policemen
Before Pardon Board
To Protest Sentence

Argument for pardon of B. Lanier and J. N. Hartley, two Savannah policemen who were sentenced to a year in the penitentiary on charges of shooting a negro, was heard by the state prison commission Tuesday. Shelby Myrick, Chatham county attorney, contended that the officers were acting in the discharge of their duties and the negro refused to halt when commanded.

Judge Peter W. Meldrim and the solicitor of the Chatham superior court, have written the board protesting against clemency for the men.

Within the next several days, the commission is expected to hand down decisions in the cases of Will Raveland, negro, of Hart county, convicted of a statutory offense and sentenced to hang May 5, and C. A. Riley, of Dougherty county, convicted of a statutory offense and sentenced to be hanged in several weeks.

MEETING DEMANDS COURTLAND PAVING

The appearance of large delegations of Courtland street residents and property owners before the Fulton county board of commissioners Wednesday and before the city planning commission to present plans for the widening and repaving of Courtland street to form an eighty-foot boulevard connecting north and south Atlanta, and with the view of relieving the present congestion at Five Points, will be the next two developments in the project, it was unanimously decided at a meeting of the Courtland Street Improvement association Tuesday evening in the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce.

Further, definite plans were decided on by the meeting for the survey of the street by competent engineers and the drawing up of plans for the carrying out of the improvement project. This survey will be begun at once and the plans will be drawn up for the approval of the city planning commission at its next meeting.

Speakers at the meeting Tuesday pointed out that reliable estimates placed the actual cost of improvement less than that of any street proposed for improvement and several hundred dollars were pledged for preliminary work on the project.

Washington and Courtland street changes, particularly backing the project and large delegations from these churches are pledged to appear before the city planning commission and the board of commissioners in favor of the project. Representatives attending the meeting predicted unprecedented increases in property values not only on Courtland street, but on adjacent streets as well, following the success of the project.

This financial interest and the idea that Atlanta will some day become a city of a million population and that the present generation must build broadly for this increase has already assured the project one of the greatest backings ever accorded a street improvement project in recent years. Edmond W. Martin and Joel Hurt pointed out, Dr. C. J. Vaughn and George Boynton, former councilmen, also spoke in favor of the project and suggested many practical details for its success.

"Courtland street, if improved, will shortly become one of the big business thoroughfares of the city," predicted Mr. Hurt in a lengthy speech on practical details of the project. Mr. Hurt also proposed a resolution, later adopted, thanking H. A. Alexander for his efficient services as association chairman. Mr. Hurt also proposed the motion for the survey of the street that was adopted.

The next meeting of the association will be announced shortly, Mr. Alexander said.

MASONS WILL HEAR
DR. STUCHELL FRIDAY

Monarch W. Frank Coley, of Ararat Grotto, Tuesday announced that Dr. William T. Stuchell will deliver an address to the Atlanta Masonic club and prophets of Ararat Grotto Friday evening at the Grotto hall, Forsyth building, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Stuchell is pastor of the Central Congregational church and president of the local Masonic club. Prophet Raleigh Drennon will arrange the musical program.

RICKS GETS SECOND VERDICT FOR INJURY

The boy brought suit through his father, J. B. Ricks. This was the second verdict of the same amount received by young Ricks, a jury in 1919 awarding the same amount.

IRMA THOMAS MIGHT GET LOCAL MANAGERIAL BERTH

Athletics' Old Catcher And Bill Rariden Lead List Being Considered

General House-Cleaning Appears to Be in Offing—Clarke Might Bolster Pitching Staff—Spiller in Cincy.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

The favorite pastime yesterday in local baseball circles was discussing Charlie Frank's probable successor as manager of the Atlanta team, following the story of his retirement carried Tuesday in The Constitution.

As these lines are being written Ira Thomas, the old Philadelphia American catcher, and Bill Rariden, field captain last season, appear to be the leading candidates, although many other possibilities were mentioned.

The last heard of Thomas was recruiting for the Athletics, a position he has held since Pop Time ruled that he was no longer capable of catching balls in the majors. He used to be a frequent guest at the local orchard, but it has been some time since he paid Atlanta a visit.

There was a time, you remember, when scouts found Ponce de Leon a promising spot for skull-bunting, and many former Atlanta stars found the way to the major leagues on Thomas' recommendation.

While he hasn't been here in months, it is known that he has a good following of supporters, and they are not confined simply to fans, either, an official of the Atlanta Baseball association having stated recently that Thomas would make the ideal manager for this franchise.

Might Sign Thomas. Before he left for Cincinnati Monday afternoon, President R. J. Spiller admitted there was a chance that Ira Thomas would be offered the position for this summer, at least.

He declined to state whether or not an offer had already been made the former Athletics star.

While on the present trip, Spiller might meet Thomas, and if he does, we rather suspect that some proposition will be made. Something will probably develop as soon as the local mogul reaches Philadelphia and holds his conference with Connie Mack.

Rariden Has Support.

Bill Rariden, too, has his following. A good many fans in this city have never understood why Rariden was deposed as field captain at the start of the ensuing campaign. It seemed to them that he did as much with last year's team as any other manager, and the world could have done, and they were anxious to see what measure of success he would record under a new system.

If the reports are true that Captain Ellum is to be replaced—and rumors are persistent—it is a good thing that Rariden will be shoved into that position.

Spiller elects to name one of the present players manager of the squad.

Rariden is almost certain to get the place.

One feature distinctly in Rariden's favor is the fact that Spiller is anxious to form a working agreement with the Cincinnati Reds. It is freely admitted that Garry Herrmann, pledged to give Atlanta unlimited support this season, withdrew his offer shortly after it was announced that Rariden had been tapped.

Then followed immediately Herrmann's demand for the return of Dewey Marshall and Buddy Napier, or the payment of cash for their services. This was a bit of a shock, as it had been understood by all parties concerned that Marshall and Napier were to be permanent property of the Atlanta club, even after Judge Landis' apportioned the cash end of the party by ruling against Atlanta in the Cliff Markle case.

Wants Three Affiliations. Spiller is convinced that he must have at least three teams in the majors upon whom he can depend when in need of players. Frank's retirement straightens the situation with the New York Yankees, who are willing to do business once more with this franchise.

The differences between the local club and Mack have also been settled and Mack has promised players. The only other major league alliance open to the Crackers is Cincinnati, and Spiller probably realizes that something to satisfy Pat Moran and Garry Herrmann must be done, and at once.

Rumors of a general clean-up are ripe, but this corresponds to the opinion that but three, possibly four, of the staff could win ball in the Southern League.

The Certainties.

The three men he listed as certain to be on the staff were John Suggs, who responded nicely Monday with shutout victory over the Vols; Buddy Napier, who has shown little since the campaign opened, and Dewey Marshall, routed in his last start. The possibility is Lefty Sauer, secured recently from the New Orleans club.

This leaves off Phil Bedgood, Cyrus Barnard and the young recruit, Stewart. The youthful Rufus Clarke was signed after Spiller left town, and we don't know in which division he will be placed.

From his record, however, he should be able to win some games for the locals. Reports that "Dutch" Bernsen will figure in the slicing are unfounded.

The Atlanta staff Monday as being convinced that Bernsen would hit his real stride within the next few days, and would eventually be worth every nickel of his purchase price and salary.

If Spiller is successful in securing a good second baseman on this trip, the Rariden will draw his release. Fred Graff appears to be sure of the berth at third base, but Roy Ellum will hardly be kept at shortstop if relieved of the captain's toga. The outfield, unless Spiller secures exceptionally promising material, will remain untouched.

Final Game With Vols Rained Out; Memphis Champs at Poncey Today

Believed That Day of Rest Will Help Atlanta's Wobbling Hurling Department.

BY MIKE THOMAS.

With a day of rest thrown in for good measure to help in the rejuvenation of their pitching staff, the Crackers will appear once more in their own baseball corral today, meeting the Memphis Chicks in the initial game of a four-game series. This day of rest may put that old horse, Dewey Marshall, in shape to turn in the Crackers' fourth defeat of Monday. Now the Vols are going to have to wait until the Crackers have a lot of new players, and a new manager and everything that President Spiller figures that the club needs to make a winning aggregation of it. It was a hard blow that the weather man took at the Vols. The game will not be played until later in the season, yes, it was a cruel blow—according to Nashville fans.

No Games in Southern. Yesterday was a great day for the ball players in the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs, but the managers and the moguls looked upon the weather man as an avowed enemy, because with them when it rains it is all going out and nothing coming in.

It rained in Nashville, in Memphis, in Mobile and in New Orleans which covered the limits of the Southern loop mightily effectively. The ball players confined their activities to the recounting of tall tales of their besting, fielding and other great accomplishments for the benefit of the eternally weary fans around the lobby of these far flung hotels with their mouths and ears open.

The fans in Memphis figure that the day of rest that their team enjoyed will help them in the series with the Crackers, although their staff of pitchers and their other players are not in the position of needing rest like the Atlanta club. But Memphis always looks with due respect on the Atlanta club and any series with the locals not considered won or lost until the last man in the last game has been accounted for by the official scorer. The Memphis team knows that there are troublesome times ahead in this series.

In Mobile and New Orleans the players and fans alike believe that this day of rest will be the very thing needed for their teams to start on a winning streak that will put or keep them at the top of the heap. And since all the other clubs are of the opinion that the day of rest helped their chances, all bets are declared off officially and further demonstration to affect the odds will be unnecessary.

BY JOHN STATION.

There are three athletic events of importance to Georgia Tech to be decided before another Sunday rolls around. First in importance, of course, is the Tennessee baseball series Friday and Saturday on Grant field. Tennessee is recognized as one of the most likely contenders for southern championship this season, and it is the intention of Tech to win both games.

Next is the A. A. U. track meet in Birmingham. The track team leaves Friday for the Iron City. They are leaving a trifle early in order to get a little rest before the meet. Last year Tech made a good showing. Coach Alexander had not decided definitely yet if he would take his personnel with him, but it is thought that he will send seven or eight men.

MANY EVENTS ON TECH SLATE

BY JOHN STATION.

There are three athletic events of importance to Georgia Tech to be decided before another Sunday rolls around. First in importance, of course, is the Tennessee baseball series Friday and Saturday on Grant field. Tennessee is recognized as one of the most likely contenders for southern championship this season, and it is the intention of Tech to win both games.

Next is the A. A. U. track meet in Birmingham. The track team leaves Friday for the Iron City. They are leaving a trifle early in order to get a little rest before the meet. Last year Tech made a good showing. Coach Alexander had not decided definitely yet if he would take his personnel with him, but it is thought that he will send seven or eight men.

And in the rush of events one must not forget the football game with Riverside Friday and Saturday. The Tech outfit will make the trip up to Gainesville for the two-game series. Coach Allen Ralph Flowers will accompany his boys. Riverside is planning to give two dances for the team, in the nature of commencement hops.

FLOWERS LEAVES FOR MEXICO

Tiger Flowers, a contender for the colored light heavyweight championship of the world, will meet Los Angeles on May 9 in Juarez, Mexico. Anderson claims the championship on account of stopping Kid Norfolk, and this fight between Flowers and Anderson is billed for the colored light-weight heavyweight championship of the world.

The fans in Memphis figure that the day of rest that their team enjoyed will help them in the series with the Crackers, although their staff of pitchers and their other players are not in the position of needing rest like the Atlanta club. But Memphis always looks with due respect on the Atlanta club and any series with the locals not considered won or lost until the last man in the last game has been accounted for by the official scorer. The Memphis team knows that there are troublesome times ahead in this series.

BABE HERMAN KNOCKED OUT

New York, May 2.—Vincent "Pepper" Martin, of Brooklyn, featherweight tonight knocked out Babe Herman, Los Angeles, in the first round of their contest in Madison Square Garden.

Herman, dancing in a ring about his opponent, fell onto a left swing that carried him across the ring. He landed on his back and took a count of five. Arising, he danced again, then went down under a series of body blows and a right to the jaw and took the full count.

One minute and forty-five seconds of the round had passed when the referee finished counting over Herman. The Californian was carried to his corner and was revived after five minutes.

Herman, a protegee of Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, aspired to a title contest with Johnny Kilbane. Herman weighed 126.14 pounds and Martin 127.

Tommy Nobel, of England, and Sammy Sieger, of Brooklyn, featherweight, fought a twelve-round draw in the semi-final.

Eddie Hanlon, local boy is looking for a fight and to show that he is anxious for action he is willing to go into the ring, guaranteeing satisfaction to the fans as far as his part of the fight is concerned.

Jack Dillon, once one of the brightest lights of the prize ring, and known far and wide as the "Hoosier Giant Killer," on account of his fighting and whipping men of much greater weight than his own, is through. In fact he has been through for several years—has only recently has his true condition become known.

Jack Dillon—when his light was brightest and his money meant nothing to him, he gave it away, and now that he is actually in need, what more need is there? Dillon appeared here shortly after his decline started. Memphis raised $100 for the former fighter on Monday night.

The Municipal Course at Piedmont park is fast rounding into shape, due to the efforts of the Professional O.K. Org. Dave, Gillespie, and the newly organized Piedmont Park Golf club.

The club was organized about a month ago for the purpose of co-operating with the officials that have charge of the course, in getting some very necessary work done, and the kindness of several of the members in lending equipment that there was no money in the treasury to purchase has given a long hard boost to the dean of the municipal courses locally.

Pal Moore of Memphis with whom arrangements have just about been completed for him to meet Tim O'Dowd here at the ball park on May 15th met and defeated Kid Pancho, of San Antonio Texas at Memphis, Monday night. Moore took every one of the eight rounds.

The Georgia State trap shoot is attracting the attention of the local nimrods and others over the state. This event starts on Thursday and lasts until Saturday of this week, and the total of 600 targets will be shot. The six hundred will be divided as follows: 450 singles from the 16 yard rifle, 25 pairs of doubles and a handicap of 100 targets.

The state championship event will be shot Friday and Saturday and will consist of 200 birds from a 16 yard rifle, 100 of them to be shot each day. The first hundred on Friday will entitle the winner to represent the state on the Annual shoot at Maplewood, Mo. On the last day the Georgia handicap will be shot. The winner in each of these shoots will receive a medal or other suitable trophy in addition to a cash prize.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland Beats Sox. Chicago, May 2.—Cleveland hit its batting stride today and pounded out a 20 to 8 victory over Chicago, breaking a losing streak of five games. The locals used three pitchers. Corvick was hit hard, but was given great support, especially by Wood, who got Sheely's drive in the third inning after a long run.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Cleveland ... 002 210 288—10 12 Chicago ... 000 000 102—10 10 Batteries: Corvick and O'Neill; Russell, Wilkinson, McWeeny and Schalk.

Tigers Win, 3 to 1. Detroit, May 2.—Ehman held St. Louis to five hits today and Detroit won the opening game of the series, 3 to 1. The Tigers hit Shocker opportunely, while his opponent tightened in the pinches and was given good support.

Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Louis ... 000 010 000—3 5 0 Detroit ... 002 001 002—3 10 1 Batteries: Shocker and Severid; Ehman and Bassler.

Athletics Win, 11-2. Philadelphia, May 2.—Four home runs, three of which were made in succession in the fourth inning today, gave Philadelphia the deciding game in the series with Washington by the score of 11 to 2. Walker's homer in the first inning scored Johnston. In the fourth, with two out, Walker again made a home run, scoring Young; Perkins and Miller followed also with circuit smashes.

After that, Morrigh was elected, and Francis finished the game, holding the Athletics to two hits.

The feat of hitting three home runs in a row by three successive batters performed today by Tillie Walker, Perkins and Miller, of the Philadelphia Athletics, in the game against Washington at Shibe park, has only two precedents in the annals of the game, despite the current prevalence of home-run hitting.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Washington ... 000 000 101—2 7 1 Philadelphia ... 210 002 000—11 14 1 Batteries: Morrigh, Francis and Perkins; Morrigh, Francis and Perkins.

Huggins and Schang Out. New York, May 2.—The New York Yankees came out of their batting slump here today and easily defeated Boston in the last game of the series, 12 to 6. Schang had a finger on his throwing hand split by a foul tip in the fifth inning and was forced out.

Empire Walsh put Manager Huggins off the New York bench in the third inning.

Score by innings: R. H. E. New York ... 010 010 021—6 9 2 Boston ... 012 002 000—12 18 2 Batteries: Huggins, Carr, W. Collins and Reul; Jones and Schang and Devermer.

Giants Sweep Series. Boston, May 2.—New York made it four straight from Boston today, Ryan pitching the world's champions to a 6 to 3 victory, while Marquard was knocked out of the box in the first inning. The play of Ravlings was brilliant. Powell and Kopf did the best work for Boston, which now has lost seven in a row.

Score by innings: R. H. E. New York ... 010 010 010—6 9 2 Boston ... 000 100 101—3 10 1 Batteries: Ryan and Smith; Marquard, Watson, Fillingim and O'Neill.

Cincy Bumps Pittsburg. Cincinnati, May 2.—Three Pittsburg pitchers were hit sharply today, Cincinnati winning a top-sliced game, 9 to 2. Couch pitched strongly and received fine support, two catches by Harper being of the most sensational character. Traynor's third base play starred for Pittsburg.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Pittsburg ... 000 010 001—2 5 3 Cincinnati ... 002 101 009—9 11 0 Batteries: Traynor, Yellow, Morrison and Geoch; Couch and Harper.

Only two games scheduled.

But Winner of $115,000 As Two-Year-Old Is Not Spoiled by Good Treatment

Morvich Has Large Personal Staff That Watches Over Him Constantly—His Feed Is Inspected and Passed by Experts.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, May 2.—A blocky, brown colt is quartered in the bits apartment of Benjamin Block's stables at the Jamaica race track, feeding on selected hay, every vest of which is personally sniffed for mould and sifted for weeds or splinters by a devoted stable boy; drinking only filtered water; sleeping on selected golden straw; banded and coddled like a 3-year-old boy in a house full of maidie aunts.

His name is Morvich.

Morvich is just a horse, but any stable boy around Jamaica track who has had any truck whatsoever with the brown colt, favorite in the great Kentucky derby which is to be run at Lexington, Ky., on May 13, knows mighty well that Morvich is people, too, just like human people. Named after a tailor on the Pacific coast because the story goes around the stables, the tailor made a snappy suit for his owner, Morvich made the name famous by winning $115,000 for his master, Benjamin Block, a New York broker, in 1921, as a 2-year-old. Inasmuch as the horse of all horses, the mighty Man o' War, himself, made less than that amount as a 2-year-old, the stable boys could forgive Morvich if he acted a little bit uppity.

Morvich Not Temperamental. So they worship him the more because he doesn't; because he is still buddies with his old pal, Billy, a dun-colored pony with no racing ambitions and nothing much to recommend him but a sunny disposition and pleasant conformation; because he is still respectful toward old Bubbles, a serious-minded sage of six long years, the taciturn alreide watch-dog who has been the day and night policeman outside Morvich's stall ever since Benjamin Block bought the horse; because Morvich still says "thank you" for small favors, such as a lump of sugar, by a nod of his head and a light whicker; because, like Jack Dempsey, Morvich is a "boyish" champion.

Charlie White, a copper-complexioned Cincinnati negro with graying wool, is first in charge of Morvich under the trainer, Fred Burlew. Charlie has a staff of six stable boys and two dogs, old Bubbles, the veteran, and young Bubbles, the nine-months-old, rarely-alreide pup.

Regarding the Bubbles family there is some mystery with a hint of tragedy or at least of marital infelicity. It seems that old Bubbles married, or went philandering beneath his care, Morvich probably has heard the whole story from old Bubbles in the darkness of the long, silent nights as the old boy kept his vigil outside the young racer's stall. Anyway, Mrs. Bubbles is not a member of the Morvich menage and old Bubbles, a widower at the age of 6, is doing his best to instill in young Bubbles a decent sense of the duty which a respectable watch-dog, with obvious traces of Alreide, should perform.

"And after that derby is over I am to have me a fine, big stake of money," says I got aboard this boy at 2 to 5 and I'm going to go big or go broke on Morvich.

The people who follow the races "tough the hand-books are not too confident, however. It is an unusual course to run a horse as hard as Morvich has been run at Jamaica, in training for a big race two weeks before the barrier. Morvich was put through a half mile in 46 a week ago and he galloped a mile in 1:40.23.

Sunday. He is a remarkably sturdy creature for a champion however, and he may not burn out under these conditions which would seem excessively trying to a horse of lighter build.

BRITT WILL MEET WILSON

Young Britt, of Atlanta, veteran of more than 200 fights, has been matched to meet Young Claude Wilson in the main bout on Monday night, May 8, at the Birmingham Athletic club in Birmingham, Ala. Young Claude Wilson will be remembered by the fight patrons here as the youngster that put Homer Powell away in five minutes here a couple of months ago.

Since this time, Wilson has been fighting off and on, and his being matched with a fighter of Young Britt's caliber shows that his development has been mighty fast, even though he made an excellent impression here in his first fight.

In this fight, Young Britt will be giving some four or five pounds, but to a fighter of Britt's caliber and temperament, a few pounds more or less makes but little difference in the outcome of his fight. In the 219 fights that Young Britt has fought, he has lost but five, which is, in itself, a remarkable record. Britt will weigh in for this fight at 110, and Wilson will move the beam at about 114, according to reports reaching these parts.

WALKER CUP COMM. NAMED

New York, May 2.—The personnel of the committee which will name the teams to compete for the Walker cup, emblematic of the world's international team golf championship next September was announced today as follows:

Robert Gardner, Chicago, chairman; W. C. Fowkes, Pittsburgh, captain; James D. Standish, Detroit; W. D. Vanderpool, Morristown, N. J., and Francis Quimet, Boston.

Under the rules of the deed of gift, the trophy fills the same place in the golf world that the Davis cup does in tennis. A team is to consist of four players and two substitutes and the competition is open to all nations of the world, with a governing golf body. Play will cover a period of six days, the first day being given over to foursomes; the second day to four ball matches, and the remaining days to single matches in which the members of each team shall play all the members of the other team or teams in turn.

No intimation was given as to what foreign team might be expected to play for the Walker cup this season, although the possibility of competitors from England and Canada has been discussed. Matches for the trophy, if held, are expected to be staged at the National amateur golf championship set for Brookline, Mass., September 4.

Spiller Says He Might Come Later

That Cliff Markle is not yet available for the Atlanta Crackers was the information contained last night in a telegram from R. J. Spiller, president of the Atlanta Baseball association, sent shortly before he left for Philadelphia.

Here is the message: "Jack Dunn is sending Pitcher Clark to Atlanta. He will help us. May get Markle later. Going to Philadelphia tonight. (Signed) R. J. Spiller."

(Getting Markle was not the chief object in Spiller's trip to the stronghold of Pat Moran and Garry Herrington, but it was as one of the contributing causes. A question about Spiller's desire to get his hands once more on the curve ball demon and he must be a bit disappointed. But he is still optimistic enough to state that there's a chance of getting Cliff later on.

Anyway it goes to show that Spiller at least got close enough to Colonel Herrington to let his wants be known and that he wasn't shooed off with the statement that Cincinnati had no desire to try any more business flips with the local franchise.

"KEY GOLF CLUB" TO BE FORMED FRIDAY

Golf players at the James I. Key municipal course will meet Friday night at 8 o'clock at the city hall for the purpose of completing organization of the "Key Golf club." The meeting is being arranged by Victor E. Green, one of the enthusiastic golfers at the links near the stockade. He announces that many details have been worked out and will be presented Friday.

G. M. C. DEFEATS ROLLINS SECOND GAME

Milledgeville, Ga., May 2.—(Special.) G. M. C. copped the second game from Rollins college in a fast and interesting fashion by a score of 9 to 2. Holland did excellent work in the box for the locals, only giving up two hits. The base running of the valets was the feature of the game, and this confused the Floridians to such an extent that they pulled many base plays. Sanders slammed out a homer in the fourth.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE ENDS TODAY

The 1922 home service appeal of the Salvation Army in Atlanta will end today with a general clean-up in which more than 75 workers will complete the canvass of the downtown business section of the city.

Only slightly more than $20,000 of its quota of $50,000 has been raised, but it is expected that considerable additions to this fund will be realized with today's canvass.

Judge L. F. McClelland, chairman of the appeal, and Ensign Herbert Young, in charge of the appeal for the army, both issued statements last night thanking the people of the city for their contributions, and especially those who, in addition to contributing themselves, devoted their time to assist in the appeal.

Representatives of the Kiwanis, Civitan, Masonic and Ad clubs, the Atlanta real estate board and the American Legion will meet at Army headquarters, 39-12 Luckie street, at 8 o'clock this morning to make the final clean-up of that portion of the city not yet covered.

"While several days will be required to wind up the details of the appeal," Judge McClelland said last night, "Wednesday will mark the end of the drive, insofar as team workers are concerned. There are hundreds of people who have not yet been seen that we hope will be given an opportunity to aid in the appeal today. For this reason we have asked that as many people as possible join today in one final effort toward providing the funds essential to the proper conduct of the Army's work in Atlanta during the coming year."

All persons who have not yet contributed are urged to send in their checks to headquarters, said Judge McClelland. The appeal is especially to women, he added.

her father asserts, to enter the tournament as a player for the Atlanta Athletic club. But she must proceed slowly about making the preparations. New York is her home now, whatever her feeling of love for Atlanta, and no doubt the clubs in the district embraced by Miss Stirling's adopted city are building their hopes of possessing the woman's title around the Atlanta girl's choice of the New York organizations.

Miss Stirling has already competed in various of the minor tournaments around New York, winning one of them only a few days ago, playing as a member of the Garden City (Long Island) Golf club. That fact gave further ground for the rumor that she would not carry Atlanta's colors.

But these rumors do not mean anything, Miss Stirling wants to represent the Atlanta Athletic club in the major events and it seems that half the battle is already won.

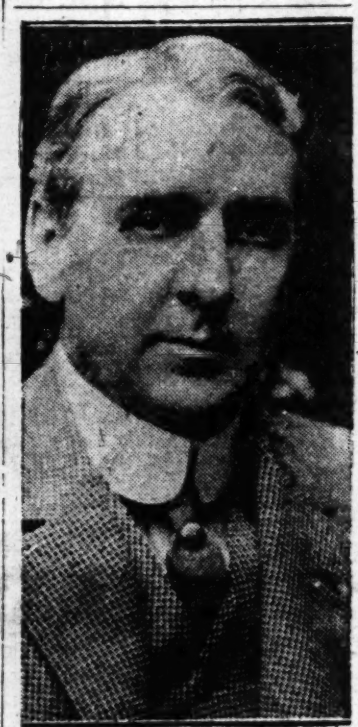

The golfing career that carried her the championship of the United States, Canada and almost of the world before she met tournament defeat, was begun at East Lake, the country home of the Atlanta Athletic club, and Miss Stirling is not anxious to give up the connection.

times that amount was loaned in the south. In fact, but for the activities of the war finance corporation, under the brilliant leadership of Eugene Meyer, Jr., and his able associates on the war finance corporation board, many competent authorities believe that the disastrous effects of the widespread depression of last year would have been very much greater than they were.

House Sure to Concur.
"The senate having led off in the passage of the resolution, or act, further extending the activities of the corporation for another year, the house is almost certain to follow its lead, which simply means that the resolution, or act, will most likely become a law in the very near future and, when that most desirable event occurs, the war finance corporation will be given authority to continue making the same sort of loans for another year from next July 1. The present law expires on July 1 of this year and the great importance of the senate's action in extending the life of the war finance corporation for another year is at once seen."

ONLY A FEW DAYS MORE OF OUR UNRIVALLED DICTIONARY OFFER

A word is the symbol of an idea. One may have the most original and forceful ideas—but without words to express them, they are utterly valueless. It might be said that there are no new ideas under the sun. In the earliest recorded writings from the Sanskrit, the Chinese, the Hebrew, the Greek or the Latin tongues, we find the same thought again and again. It is the expression only, that varies. Each age, each nation must evolve its own form of expression, or symbolism in its literary art. The universal mind in this way frees itself by the individual genius which has caught its meaning. Thus words may be said to be the tools of thought. Word study therefore, is one of the most important elements of education. And the dictionary which gives the derivation, the different shades of meaning, the transition in modes of spelling; in short, the history of the word, is the indispensable work-book for the worker in words. Among all the eras of dictionary making, the present excels. And there is no excuse for anyone not to possess a valuable dictionary. The New Universities Dictionary, now being distributed by this paper, easily chief among the dictionaries of its class. Our distribution has been wide and far-reaching. We only regret that the time draws near when we can no longer get this wonderful book for our readers, on the terms hitherto prevailing. We hope that those who have not yet gotten it will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity presented today. The coupon published daily in our columns explains the method of acquiring it.—(adv.)

the war finance corporation has already done, and which has yielded such splendid results, should be made permanent through the passage of a law creating new governmental institutions, to be known as "Federal Agricultural-Live Stock Banks." A number of bills have been introduced in both the house and the senate along this line, notably one by Senator Simmons, of North Carolina.

"This bill of Senator Simmons" is modeled very closely after some very excellent suggestions on the subject advanced and made public sometime ago by L. R. Adams, of Atlanta, and secretary of the Georgia Country Bankers' association. Everybody knows that the government has established the federal reserve banks to provide financial machinery chiefly adapted for the use and benefit, directly, of the merchants, manufacturers and business men of the country.

"Also, the government created the federal farm loan banks, which furnish the financial machinery whereby loans can be made to farmers and producers on their lands as security."

Need Another Agency.
"But it has now become perfectly evident and obvious that there is need for still a third institution to provide financial machinery whereby loans, under governmental sanction, can be made to farmers, producers and live stock handlers, upon the credit of their crops and live stock. It is not possible, under the machinery of the federal reserve bank, for such loans to be made for a longer period than six months, and the machinery devised in the federal farm loan banks does not fit the situation at all."

"Nature has so provided that from 'seed time to harvest' is practically twelve months, and from 'calf to a steer' requires at least two years. This simple statement itself indicates the necessity for the creation of still a third governmental institution, which could, with property and peculiar fitness, be called 'Federal Agricultural-Live Stock Banks.'"

"In addition to the good results which may be confidently expected to follow from the extension of the activities of the war finance corporation for another year, such extension will likewise be the very good purpose of further demonstrating the need and necessity for the creation of these new governmental institutions."

"If and when the bill creating the 'Federal Agricultural-Live Stock Banks' is enacted into law, the trinity of the federal banking laws will be complete. The federal farm loan structure of the country will be upheld upon the pillars of three great governmental institutions—federal reserve banks, federal farm loan banks and federal agricultural-live stock banks."

HEAVY GUNS ROAR IN CHINA BATTLE

night to confer with Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister, regarding measures for the protection of foreigners. Peking is considered thoroughly protected, since the city's gates are closed at night, and the streets are patrolled by Chinese troops.

Pekin War Rules.
The Chinese foreign office today notified the foreign legations here that the following precautions have been taken in view of hostilities between General Wu Pei-fu and Chang Tso Lin:

First, foreigners must not visit the battlefield. The government will not be responsible for injuries to spectators.

Second, additional neutral troops are to be brought to Peking if necessary.

Third, General Chang Tso Lin and Wu Pei-fu have been notified to keep the fighting ten miles away from Peking.

Fourth, defeated soldiers will not be permitted to enter the city.

Fifth, airplanes will not be permitted to fly over the city.

Chinese doctors went to the front today to bury the bodies of soldiers, horses and camels.

Owing to the exhaustion of supplies of American flags for use in American homes and on vehicles, a group of American women have been making home-made substitutes.

COMMISSION LIKES JACKSON SITE

was decided to adjourn subject to call of the chairman for an inspection trip. As reasons for not wishing to dispose of the orphanage property, Mr. Kriegshaber stated in his letter that "the sale of the orphanage property to the city of Atlanta would involve upon the immediate purchase of another satisfactory site and the erection of the necessary buildings. This would involve upon us the arrangement of at least $125,000 in addition to what the city would pay us. To do this, we would naturally have to call upon our representatives in the various states which contribute to the support of the institution. Replies to letters sent out have not been satisfactory, and for this reason we feel it would be inadvisable to dispose of our property at this time."

Save Money on Site.

In choosing a building lot for the Faith Street grammar school, the bond commission saved the city $9,431 and got nearly twice as much ground. The board of education had recommended a parcel of 41.2 acres embracing a block bounded by Cumming, Holtz, Gibson and Fair streets, at a price of $22,651.25.

The school committee of the bond commission felt this price was too high. The committee found a tract of eight acres one block from the site proposed by the education board and secured an option for $13,500. The board, in session Tuesday afternoon, accepted the commission's choice of the new tract.

The combination senior-junior high negro school site is located in the Citizens' Trust company subdivision at Ashby and West Hunter streets, said to be admirable for high school purposes. The tract is bounded by Beck street on the south, Beacon street on the north, a new street not named on the east and other subdivision property on the west.

A Ten Eyck Brown appeared before the board of education and stated that preliminary plans for the new school structures on the priority list had been submitted to Dr. N. L. Englehard and Dr. George D. Strayer, education consultants to board and bond commission, and they had suggested certain revisions here and there in the plans which now are being given to the school committee.

School Commissioner W. L. McCall announced that the English Avenue and East Atlanta annexes will be completed by September 1, this year. He said Faith Street school and the four junior high schools will be finished by September 1, 1923, but that the new Calhoun elementary school, the Virginia Avenue school and the Lucile Avenue addition will be ready for occupancy by January 1, 1923.

Hutcheson Scores Purchase.

School Commissioner Hutcheson's statement scoring the purchase of the Boys' High school tract, is as follows: "The city of Atlanta has been literally robbed of between $25,000 and $30,000 in the purchase of the Boys' High school site."

"With Commissioner A. C. Meirell, who has been instrumental in securing the facts, I have been giving to the public the truth as I have learned it. Herschel Herrington, real estate operator in the Peters building, one week before the purchase of the site held twelve acres of the tract purchased, said acreage being the property of Dr. W. P. Walker, for the sum of $18,000, which included the twelve acres for $20,000. Dr. Walker receiving $19,000 clear of a $1,000

Says Land Unimproved.

"Benjamin Watkins, real estate operator, who I am informed worked in conjunction with the Adair Realty and Trust company, sold the said twelve acres for $20,000. Dr. Walker receiving $19,000 clear of a $1,000 commission. I am not objecting so much to this twelve acres having brought $20,000 as I am to the adjoining eight acres, owned by R. L. Walker, for which $55,000 was paid. This eight acres had been turned over to a stock company, the value of the stock of the entire company being $30,000, and the eight acres being unimproved. Had the land brought the worth of the stock alone, which was $30,000, the city would have saved $25,000 on that deal."

I am charging that the Adair company must have made the difference between the $30,000 and the $55,000, which is $25,000 within itself. Mr. Herrington today told me that a maximum market value on the two tracts would be $20,000 each, or a total of $40,000, the city of Atlanta thereby losing $35,000.

Says $25,000 Made.

"A member of the board of education was advised by Mr. Lawrence A. James, a member of the city comptroller's office, that the twelve acres owned by Dr. W. P. Walker, was in the hands of Herschel Herrington, and that Mr. Herrington for years had been handling all of Dr. Walker's business, but Mr. Herrington told me that Lawrence James told him that the commissioner said, 'Keep quiet, that they were going to get those options direct.' The fact remains that the commissioner never dealt with Mr. Herrington, whatever, but Mr. Watkins took the matter away from Herrington, and Watkins and Adair combined in this sale, and to use the words of Mr. Herrington to me, 'Somebody has made $25,000 on this deal.' I say it again, that the city of Atlanta has been fished out of from $25,000 to $35,000 in this deal, and I do not propose, if I can prevent it, to permit any such future fishing being done. I wish to give Commissioner Meirell entire credit for unearthing the machinations of this Boys' High school site deal."

(Signed)
"CARL F. HUTCHESON."

Tuesday night Mr. Hutcheson called The Constitution to say that since writing his card he had found out that the voucher check for $55,000 and the voucher check for $20,000 were made out to the Adair Realty company, and that this agency distributed the proceeds from the sale of the Boys' High site.

Lawrence James, who was quoted in Mr. Hutcheson's statement, called The Constitution and declared that Mr. Hutcheson's use of his name was unauthorized, and that he did not intend to make any statement accredited to him.

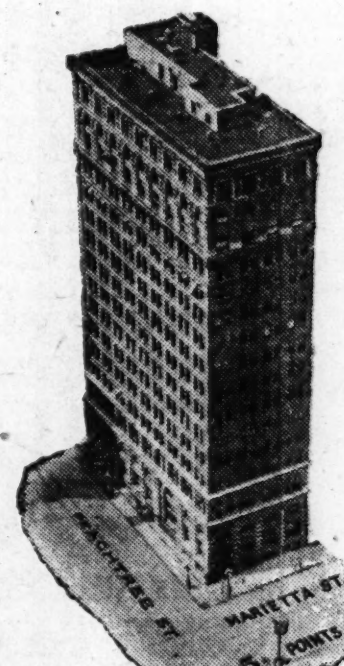

Arbitrarily Signed.

"Referring back to the Boys' High school, when I told the people of the city that we had paid $25,000 to $35,000 too much for the Boys' High school site, I did not believe that the council would ever have ratified the

Miss Margaret Wilkinson Weds Humphrey A. Wagar

Mr. and Mrs. Mell R. Wilkinson announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret King, to Humphrey A. Wagar, Jr., of Washington, D. C., and Ithaca, N. Y., which took place at Baltimore, Md., where the bride was visiting her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gottschaldt, former residents of Atlanta.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, a sister of Van W. Wilkinson, and the only granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Winkle, pioneer residents of Atlanta. She graduated at Washington seminary, and afterward finished her education at Holton Arms in Washington, D. C. She traveled in Europe for several months during last summer and fall, under the chaperonage

Music Club Will Hold Important Meeting Today

Two important events will feature the annual meeting of the Atlanta Music club to be held today at 10:30 at Eggleston hall.

The first will be the election of officers and the only business session of the year. The second will be the presentation of a program arranged by Miss Margaret Hecht, which will be made up of "Modern American Music" and will have as its participants some of the leading singers and musicians in Atlanta.

The business session will be brief, but important. Mrs. Charles E. Dowman, president, will preside. The nominating committee includes Miss Irene Sullivan, chairman; Miss Hannah Franklin, Mrs. H. R. Bates, Mrs. W. O. Chears, Mrs. R. B. Kneale. On Thursday morning the retiring board and the new board will have a joint meeting at 10:30 at Eggleston hall.

The musical program is as follows: Sonata, a major, for piano—Wakefield Cadman.

Duet, "Morn of the Year," (Byron Warner)—Miss Annie Belle Wood and Miss Hazel Whitney.

"At Twilight—Catharine Glen." "Ah Love, But a Day," (Beach)—Miss Grace Stephens.

"Night of the Desert, Dawn of the Desert," (Gertrude Ross)—Miss Mabel Whitney.

Sonata, for violin and piano, (Carpenter)—Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. Charles Dorman.

"Will o' the Wisp—Yesterday and Today," (Gilbert Spross)—Miss Hazel Whitney.

"The Star—James H. Rogers." "The Nightingale Has a Lyre of Gold," (Whipple)—Byron Warner.

"Oh, That We Two Were Maying," (Eitelbert Nevin)—Duet by Misses Hazel and Mabel Whitney.

Peter Pans of Cobb Players Will Meet Today

The Peter Pans of the Carolyn Cobb Community Players will meet in Miss Cobb's studio at the Grand theater building this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Each child will tell a story which will then be played by the children present. Several plays will be read and parts assigned. These plays will be given at the next meeting.

The purpose of the club is joyful self expression for the children and a development of literary appreciation through dramatic interpretation. It will be a play rehearsal club, the emphasis not being upon production, any production which may develop being incidental to the regular work and a natural development.

Master George Whitman, of College Park, and Miss Elizabeth McWhorter, of Decatur, are co-directors. Miss Virginia Turner is costume director. The Peter Pans will be under the general supervision of Mrs. C. G. Gainer, one of the organizers of the Carolyn Cobb Community Players in the spring of 1921. Mrs. Turner is one of Atlanta's real artists, having had wide professional experience as a platform reader and teacher of dramatic art, not only in Georgia, but in other sections of the country. That she is giving her services to the direction of the Peter Pans assures the success and sincerity of the work.

Miss Holzendorff Weds George A. Schulte at Home

The marriage of Miss Gladys Holzendorff and George A. Schulte, of Newark, N. J., was solemnized Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Holzendorff, on West Peachtree.

The impressive ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Dr. S. W. Wasson, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist church, in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends. Preceding the ceremony, an appropriate musical program was rendered by Miss Harriet Small, Miss Elizabeth Richardson and George F. Lindner. The wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Richardson.

Handsome Decorations.
The beautiful home was decorated with stately palms and spring flowers in the pastel shades. Silver baskets and vases of pink and lavender sweetpeas, snapdragons, peonies, lilacs and roses adorned the tables and mantles throughout the reception rooms. An improvised altar in the sun parlor was formed of handsome palms, anailars and seven-branched candelabra, holding white burning tapers.

Miss Vivian Bosworth, of Chicago, Ill., cousin of the bride, and Miss Martha Tomlinson, were maids of honor, and wore beautiful gowns of chiffon, beaded in crystals. They carried arm bouquets of Opelia roses showered with snapdragons and other garden flowers. Miss Bosworth wore coral-colored chiffon fashioned bouffant and beaded in a handsome crystal design. Miss Tomlinson's costume was of sapphire-blue chiffon over satin, beaded elaborately in crystals.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lucille Hendrix, of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Frances Stovall. They were gowned in gowns of pastel shades and carried bouquets of Opelia roses and garden flowers. Miss Hendrix wore orchid tulle fashioned over cloth of silver, with touches of cream silk. Miss Stovall was gowned in peach-colored chiffon over silver cloth and handsomely beaded in crystals and pearls.

Little Grace Lois Christanson, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer, and wore a handsome frock of pink georgette trimmed with tulle bows. The ribbon bearers, Ardis and Marjorie Christanson, wore dainty frocks of pink organza.

John Burckhardt acted as best man, and the groomsmen were Elkin Wilson, of Valdosta, cousin of the bride; Walter Marvin, of Chicago, and Herman Martin, of Milledgeville.

Lovely Bride.
The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Dr. C. A. Holzendorff, wore a wedding gown of white satin, the skirt effectively draped and embroidered in seed pearls and crystals. Falling gracefully on each side were panels of lace, satin-lined. The long train fell from the shoulders and was edged with pearls, and the lace veil was caught to her hair by a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Assisting in entertaining the guests were Miss Marie Carlton, Miss Estelle Lindsey, Miss Lella Mae Jenkins, Miss Clara Louise Scott and Miss Elizabeth Callaway.

Mrs. Holzendorff, mother of the bride, was given in marriage by her father, Dr. C. A. Holzendorff, who was given in marriage by his father, Dr. C. A. Holzendorff, who was given in marriage by his father, Dr. C. A. Holzendorff.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Schulte, and his bride left during the evening for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Newark, N. J.

Goucher Club to Give Benefit Bridge.
The Goucher College club will give a bridge party Saturday, May 6, at 3 o'clock on the roof garden of the Annex for the benefit of the Greater Goucher fund. This fund represents $6,000.00 which the alumnae all over the country are raising to place the buildings of Goucher college, Baltimore, on their new campus.

Tables will be $2 each. Many attractive prizes have been donated, a number of which will be drawn for. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Hanson V. Jones, 240 St. Charles avenue, president of the Atlanta chapter, or any member of the club. Players are requested to bring their cards.

Cooper—Pring.
Miss Geraldine Cooper and Fred C. Pring, of Evanston, Ill., were married at 6 o'clock Monday evening. Dean Johnson performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pring left immediately for an extended wedding trip.

Special Honor Guests To Feature G. H. S. Alumnae Tea

The Girls' High School Alumnae association will entertain at a tea Thursday afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's Club, from 4:30 to 6 o'clock.

Honor Guests.
Mother and daughter graduates will be special honor guests of the occasion, the group including Mrs. John M. Cooper and Miss Frances Cooper, Mrs. T. L. Johnson and Miss Stirling Johnson, Mrs. Hubert Culberson and Miss Katherine Culberson, Mrs. A. K. Thurmond and Miss Doris Thurmond. Other guests of honor will be Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. E. K. Large, Mrs. Samuel Lounsbury, Miss Irma Finley, Mrs. John S. Spalding, Mrs. R. F. McCormack.

Receiving Line.
The receiving line will include the officers of the association and members of the board: Miss Jessie Reynolds, Mrs. S. W. McCallie, Miss Cora Seale, Mrs. S. W. D. McDonald, Miss Line Sergeant, Mrs. David Eichberg, Mrs. Joseph N. Moody, Miss Marie I. Slaton, Miss Mary C. Moore, Miss Emma Gregg, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Edwin Joiner, Miss Jessie Muse, Mrs. Lena S. Huntley and the president of the Mallon society, Miss Olive Hall.

The Agnes Scott scholarship, which is given annually by the association, will be voted upon at this tea, and the young girls who will qualify for this scholarship are, Misses Isabel Clarke Olive Hall and Louise Smith.

Other Attractions.
The A. B. C. club, of the Y. W. C. A., will, in connection with their band, give the chorus of "Marie," a musical comedy. Admission to the carnival will be 10 cents, but the admission ticket will not entitle holders to enjoy, free of charge, the booth attractions or concessions. The Y. W. C. A. clubroom and gymnasium will be used for the carnival. A booth will show freaks from Asia and Australia; another booth for balls and the dummy; fishpond will operate to catch the pennies; a booth will show girls who rival Mack Sennett's bathing beauties. A typical motion picture will be produced, and there will be the singing and dancing, Charlie Chaplin and the Kid, and music everywhere.

There will be two fortune tellers of local reputation, Miss Ruth Kehrer and Charles English. Concessions will consist of a waffle stand, cold drinks, ice cream cones and popcorn balls. All attractions will be offered at a penny, 5 and 10 cent rates.

The club federation is composed of eight clubs that were recently formed into a federation because their excellent standard of clubwork qualified them for such an organization. The purpose of the carnival is to raise a fund to send club delegates to the Y. W. C. A. South Atlantic Field conference, to be held this summer at Lake Junaluska. The girls must raise their own conference fund, which they hope to do from their carnival proceeds.

Carnival.
Following the fashion show, the Y. W. C. A. Club Federation will give a carnival at the Y. W. C. A. Peachtree Arcade, beginning at 4:30 and lasting until 10 o'clock Saturday night. The club federation includes young business women who are experienced in giving Y. W. C. A. carnivals that are filled with the true carnival spirit of a good time for everybody. If You Have Silks to Buy Prepare to Buy Now!

—It is easy enough to out-Herod Herod about these silks, and "thunder in the index" regarding them. Suffice it to say that the values are the very flower of silk effort 55 years in training, the height and pitch of the "First Silk Store of the South."

—The splendid economies are the results of going direct to the mills, of cutting out all unnecessary costs—the geometrical straight line from mill to you producing the shortest, smallest price possible.

—Everything is here—the world in silks, and following is a summary of the wonderful offerings:

Swastika Club Held Delightful Dance Monday

Monday evening, May 1, at 9 o'clock members of the Swastika club, the officers and employees of the South-eastern Express company assembled at the Ansley hotel roof garden Monday night for an elaborate dinner-dance, numbering 90 couples.

Newton C. Wing gave a short talk regarding the success of the company, also complimented the officers and employees for the hearty co-operation that has existed since the organization one year ago.

The Swastika club was organized shortly after the company started operation and has furnished various forms of entertainment for all officials and employees.

The anniversary dinner-dance has been pronounced the most successful entertainment of the club's social activities and in the future will be looked forward to as an annual celebration.

The committee in charge included O. C. Brobaugh, president of the club; H. J. McFadden, J. H. Barrett, E. A. Mosler, L. S. Jacoby, R. H. Vogel.

MEETINGS

When adults forsake black as the universal costume, youngsters forgo white. Even pastel shades went by the board.

One special thing the nursery will not permit, which is for the grown-ups to get ahead of them in fashion. They point with pride to the outstanding fact that they have led the fashions for a decade and they do not propose to let leadership pass from their hands. If colors are to be the style, then say they, who is better entitled to wear them than youth? And who is? They have us there.

Not only have they eschewed all to their homes in New York after having been pleasantly entertained as the guests of Miss Sylvia Berger and Miss Eleanor Berger.

Mr. and Mrs. William Worth-Martin have returned to Atlanta and have moved from the Piedmont hotel to 1365 Peachtree road.

Correct Dress for Women
50 WHITEHALL

is of blue crepe embroidered in pink. The design has a Grecian simplicity and is run in bands about the gown. And do not overlook the cape which youth has borrowed without apology from age. It is part of the gown and it ripples down the back as though the wearer were a sophisticated member of society.

Also there is the sleeveless effect admired by age. The young arms have far more right to protrude from the armholes, guiltless of covering, than most of the other arms which are in plain view of the public all the day. The boat-shaped neckline is as child's by rights. And the poke bonnet is reminiscent of sunbonnet days under hot suns where bees hum and daisies bloom.

This poke bonnet, by the way, is built of the fabric of the frock and trimmed like it. It is also made of gingham, or linen, or calico, preferably the latter for any child who is to spend the days of the city streets. It's a return to first principles, shades and whiteness, to the head in hot weather.

There is a decided change in the silhouette from the long-waisted days of childhood. The little belt of the present hour is as near midway between the neck and hem as the line of drastically abbreviated that it would be well-nigh impossible to continue to put the belt where it once was. It would slip to the ankles and hobble the child.

Merely a frill, is the edict of those who deem children's skirts. All the gaiety is put on the bodice which is loose and full at the belt line, although it is not as long waisted as it once was. The straight slip which flares mightily at the hem has its adherents and is used entirely for play hours, but the dominant fashion censors the division between the upper and lower parts of the frock.

THE HOUSEHOLD

Edited by Anne Rittenhouse

YOUR HOUSE GUESTS.

Do you keep a guest book?

It is an excellent scheme.

The book need be nothing more than a ledger placed in your guest room. Every guest who sleeps under your roof is requested to sign his name and to write the date of his visit in this little book. Guests are delighted to be thus remembered. It indicates that you keep a record of it.

Let's take it for granted that you have kept such a register. Now let's see what the register will do for you. It gives you a record of the guests who have enjoyed your hospitality. It gives you a record of the persons who have been of influence and position, persons whom you regard with warmest interest. It gives you a record of the persons who have been of influence and position, persons whom you regard with warmest interest.

Or does your guest register show that you have, from time to time, entertained persons to whom such a visit is an event—persons who are seldom invited to houses? If so, let's see what the register will do for you. It gives you a record of the guests who have enjoyed your hospitality. It gives you a record of the persons who have been of influence and position, persons whom you regard with warmest interest.

These really are the worthwhile guests to have, for whatever reason, give them of hospitality is long remembered and makes an indelible impression. There is the young man from the country, in your husband's office. He is as yet crude and awkward. A visit at a house such as yours will do him much good because it will give him the assurance and self-possession he needs. Besides, he is lonely and needs a glimpse of a home environment. Then there is your own old bachelor uncle. He is a little tiresome, brags a bit too much and smokes strong tobacco. But, goodness, you can stand him for three days, and think what comfort it will give him. If you live in the city there are many people who are in the country that would rather stay day or so with you, and if you are in the country or suburbs there are city folk who would like nothing better than a few days in the country. And these people who jump at the chance to get away from their own dull and narrow environments are far more satisfactory guests than those other people who have to be maneuvered for weeks in order to find any time to give you and then make you feel that they have done you great honor in coming instead of having received an honor from you.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

For Home-Made Doughnuts.

A little vinegar added to the dough when frying will prevent the doughnuts from tasting of the lard.

To Clean Wall Paper.

When papered walls become soiled with a new broom-brush, brush the wall over them with a soft cloth. The wall paper will look like new.

Mustard Flaxseed.

In making mustard plaster, mix well to mix the mustard with a little of whites of eggs, which will prevent blistering. Use enough to make it spread easily. Spread thinly on brown paper.

The Involuntary Vamp

by Mildred Barbour

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY.

Diana Langley, who just naturally has the knack of making men fall in love with her and possesses to a superior degree a quality of "lure," which was wished for her at her birth by her youthful aunt.

Marjorie Langley, herself a notable beauty, to whom Stephen Dale, a wealthy bachelor, has been devoted for years. In her twentieth year, although she had withstood the attentions of numerous young men, Diana impetuously declared her love to Dale.

CHAPTER III.

Clipped Wings

Stephen Dale stared at Diana a moment through the deepening gloom. Then he reached a hand toward the wall switch which would transform the romantic twilight into a prosaic, electric-lit drawing room.

"What a subtle flatterer you are, Di! You can kid an old-timer like me quite as easily as you can the boys."

Diana, on her feet beside him, caught the arm that was raised toward the switch.

"I mean it," she said, unsteadily. "Oh, Steve, I'm awful! I know I am! Where's my pride gone, I wonder? And what would all the boys say that I've been so indifferent to? I refused Ted Sanders last week, and Perry Macon over at the Watkins house party, and I'm trying to keep that navy man from getting serious here to-night." She rushed on, as if to vindicate her pride, "but oh, Steve, Steve, I—"

His firm grip on her arm caught her up sharply. She bit her lip and was silent.

"I mean it," she said, unsteadily. "Oh, Steve, I'm awful! I know I am! Where's my pride gone, I wonder? And what would all the boys say that I've been so indifferent to? I refused Ted Sanders last week, and Perry Macon over at the Watkins house party, and I'm trying to keep that navy man from getting serious here to-night." She rushed on, as if to vindicate her pride, "but oh, Steve, Steve, I—"

PATENT LEATHER BELTS DRESS UP RATINE FROCKS

Perhaps you've discovered that wooden bead girdles have a very bad habit of catching on anything and everything and spilling all over the place. It's most disconcerting. A recent improvement has the belt of patent leather with bead inserts in gray colors at the sides. They're positively pert with ratine frocks.

Franchise, to be held next Thursday, at 3:30 o'clock, at the assembly hall of the Carnegie library, Madame Slifer will resume the reading of the play, "Les Eclaircies," by Maurice Donnay.

This last act promises to be very interesting and will be highly enjoyed by the members of the alliance.

Reserved Seats for Oglethorpe Plays.

Reserved seats for the Oglethorpe plays to be presented at the Woman's club, Friday evening, May 5, will be on sale at Cable hall Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Admission, $1.50. Those who have purchased tickets can have seats reserved on these days.

Afternoon Party For Senior Class.

A pretty affair of Monday afternoon was a bridge party given by Miss Eva Walter Corley in honor of the senior class of the Elizabeth Mather academy.

The reception rooms were attractively decorated with pink roses, the class flower. Miss Corley was assisted in entertaining by her sisters, Mrs. Godfrey G. Hoch and Miss Mary Corley.

The guests included Misses Josephine Burford, Sarah Armstrong, Margaret Babb, Dorothy Clarke, Margaret E. Lion, Helen Falks, Yetta Guthman, Hannah Reich, Elexia Wirick, Inez Zachary, Irene Clinkscales, Thena White, Dorothy Kellam, Mary White, Catherine Giam, Carolyn Holiday and Anna Ruth Perry.

Their mother, grandmother and aunt, Mrs. P. D. McCarley, Mrs. G. A. Howell and Mrs. McWhorter Miller assisted in entertaining.

Mrs. Harper Is Complimented.

Mrs. Joseph Harper, who before her marriage recently was Miss Annie Kate Adams, of Jacksonville, Fla., is being entertained at many elegant parties.

Today Mrs. Roy LeCraw will entertain for Mrs. Harper.

Thursday Mrs. C. F. Evans will entertain at her home.

Mrs. Audley McCallie will entertain Friday at her home on Druid Place for Mrs. Harper.

Miss Maud Couch will compliment Mrs. Harper, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Cole Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. James L. Cole of Pittsburgh, Pa., was honor guest at the tea given by Mrs. George Woodruff.

Spring flowers decorated the apartments and in the dining room, the central decoration on the lace covered table was a silver vase filled with pink peonies. Pink unshaded candles were used in the silver candlesticks.

Mrs. Woodruff wore a gown of green satin and tulle. Mrs. Cole wore rose colored tulle and satin trimmed in silver lace.

Brenau Alumnae To Have Meeting.

Former Brenau students and members of the Brenau alumnae now residing in Atlanta are interested in the forthcoming of the Brenau College Glee club in the "Brenau Follies" at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium theater Tuesday afternoon and evening, May 9.

The alumnae and former members of the Brenau colony will meet Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at Edison hall to formulate plans for a large tea which they will give to the Brenau Glee club girls immediately after the matinee. Mrs. Omar F. Elder has called this group together and requests that all members of the former Brenau colony and all alumnae meet with her tomorrow morning to discuss the details of this tea. Mrs. William Owens will act as co-chairman with Mrs. Elder.

The alumnae have engaged a block of box seats for the afternoon performance.

Among the members of the Brenau alumnae who will assist Mrs. Elder and Mrs. Owens and will meet with them tomorrow morning are Mrs. Frank Spratlin, Mrs. Joel Chandler

EDNA KENT FORBES

EARLY SPRING TONICS.

Have you been taking a tonic this spring? If you haven't it is not too late to take one now. After the starchy diet of the winter some tonic should be taken to thin the blood. Great numbers of girls always write me at this season and complain of pimples, though they say that their skins are normally clear. The only trouble is that the blood has become rich and thick (as it must to resist the cold of the winter), and now after a few weeks of warmth when the body need not generate so much heat in itself the skin breaks out with ugly and sometimes rather sore eruptions.

Personally, I know of nothing more effective than the simple old-fashioned tonic of our grandmothers' day, which I recommend faithfully every spring. It is made by mixing one tablespoonful of powdered flour of sulphur with two tablespoonfuls of molasses or syrup. The dose is a tablespoon a day for three days, then three days when none is taken, then a teaspoonful a day is repeated for another three days and, if the skin is quite bad, after a three days' rest three more spoonfuls are taken.

The first effect probably will be to bring out several unexpected eruptions on the face, but these will go away quickly. I do not know of any tonic that will give the skin such a clear, creamy color as this. It is supposed to act upon the liver and kidneys as well as the bowel system. This takes from the blood all impurities, thins it and tones up the entire system.

Another excellent spring tonic is raw carrots, but these are difficult to eat. Carrots chopped fine and boiled will do.

Snda Mae: I do not think there is much harm in using a lip stick, but any such makeup is so crude very few people would indulge in it, except for an artificial light and then it should be done very delicately. Buddie: To make the busts firm, dash cold water over them every morning and dry with light friction from a coarse towel. Deep breathing will also aid. Remoe: A skin which is full of blackheads and pimples and always red, shows that your system is upset from some disturbance. You may have an impacted colon which is filling the blood with waste. Since all soaps irritate your skin you should use creams, but the best thing is for you to have a doctor prescribe for your condition.

Tomorrow: "Blackhead Powder." All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. The Editor.

A. B. & A. TO GIVE LOW SUMMER RATE
Round-trip rates for the summer will be available on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, beginning May 5, according to an announcement made Tuesday. These rates, which will be adopted on trips from all south Georgia points to Atlanta, will be sold on the basis of 60 percent of the regular fare. The tickets will be sold each Friday and Saturday, during the summer and will be valid until the following Tuesday at midnight when the time-limit expires. Sunday Pullman service is also announced on this road. London society women are turning to fencing as a means of improving their dancing.

A PARASOL SUMMER HAS BEEN PREDICTED

Whether designers searched the sky and there learned the secret is a question. Anyhow they stoutly aver 'tis to be a hot summer—a parasol summer in short, and declare that the smartest parasols are very much a la Japanese. That is, there are very many spokes or ribs, and they extend considerably beyond the edge of the cover which is made of gay colored, bizarrely motifed silk crepe—matching one's gown perhaps.

WHAT'S WHAT

By Helen Dele

A letter of introduction is "Open Sesame" to the traveler in a new place. It is a key to unlock guarded doors. It obliges those to whom it is presented to help a total stranger in many ways, or, at least, to give him a measure of entertainment. For this reason the social letter of introduction should not be given to a mere acquaintance, nor addressed to anyone who is not a close friend of the writer. It is an impertinence to ask anyone but a friend for such a letter, and it is equally impertinent to address the letter to one upon whom the sender has no social claim.

The letter of business or of diplomatic introduction is another matter. There are many cogs in the machinery of large affairs and courteously worded introductions, whether in person or by letter, often help to "make the wheels go round" more easily for all concerned. An office or consular letter of introduction—man to man—is neither so personal nor so responsible as the social letter. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

A Bright Kitchen. Every kitchen needs good artificial lighting as well as plenty of daylight and sun during some part of the day. Dark, gloomy kitchens may often be transformed into cheerful workrooms by painting walls and woodwork a color that reflects rather than absorbs the light. Reflectors behind wall lamps and lights help in throwing light where it is most needed.

The Constitution's Patterns

A Dainty Guimpe Dress. 3961. Simplicity and youth go hand in hand—as this style portrays. Crisp organza, edged with dotted voile is here shown. One may have crepe in any pretty weave, or, voile or tulle. The style is also nice for ginghams with batiste or crepe for the guimpe. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 12-year size requires 1 7/8 yard and 27-inch material for the guimpe and 2 5/8 yards for skirt and overblouse. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A Popular, Comfortable Dress Style for the Growing Girl. 3962. The pattern is cut in three sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. A 14-year size requires 2 3/4 yards of 36-inch material for the dress and 2 1/4 yards for 32-inch material for the guimpe. Figured gabardine is here combined with crepe de chine. Satin and serge, tricotette and organza, silk and twill

Scorched Vegetables. Vegetables are likely to scorch on the gas stove if not carefully watched. When this happens remove the saucpan at once and set it in a pan of cold water. In a half hour you will probably find no trace of the scorched taste.

This is the way Cuban housewives prepare

PINEAPPLES

We give you here a simple, easy way to prepare pineapples for serving.
Cuban women have used it for years. Done this way it is no trouble at all to peel, core and remove the eyes from this delicious fruit.
So many women who would like to serve fresh pineapple, because they enjoy this most delicious of all tropical fruits, hesitate to do so because they find it hard to peel, core and free of the "eyes." This way is easy, quick and efficient. A Cuban housewife will prepare a fruit for serving in this way in less than a minute.
You should serve pineapple more often during the season when this luxurious fruit is abundant and inexpensive. A pineapple will serve six to eight people. It is really more economical than many other fruits or berries you can serve.
There are scores of delicious ways to prepare this wonderful fruit when fresh. We have compiled a little book of proven recipes. Send for it. It is FREE.
Order a pineapple from your grocer today. Try it for breakfast, sliced.

A Wife on Leave

By INEZ KLUMPH

Who's Who and What's Happened.
Richard Bradshaw knows that she will learn something of life. She has a thrilling flirtation with Keith Gilbert, who has always been labeled "dangerous," and is horrified to learn that, despite his position in society, he is a bootlegger. One of his men shoots a revenue officer, and Gilbert is held for murder. He escapes, taking Sally with him, but she is rescued by Neal Calhoun, who gives her some good advice. She finds herself without funds, and, not knowing where her husband is, assumes the name of "Mrs. Pemberton," and obtains a position as chambermaid to Claire Finch, who has more money than manners. They go to a summer resort, where Claire falls in love with Rex Mallory, the son of a wealthy automobile manufacturer, who prefers Sally. Sally goes to dinner at a roadside with Claire and Mallory, and in the dressing room finds a girl picking her pockets. The girl is the sister of the employee of Keith Gilbert, who was arrested for shooting a revenue officer and has resorted to desperate measures to get money for a new trial for him. Sally promises to help her, so she goes to New York to consult Calhoun. She has lunch with an old friend.

Patricia Lang, a modern flapper, who has recently eloped, and who is summoned home by a strange telephone call. Patricia's husband had been hurt in an accident; seeing that Patricia is a young man of doubtful character, whose acquaintance she made while in New York, she decides to return. With Mallory Sally goes to the roadside to see the little dancer once more and promising aid. Mallory is fascinated by the girl. During Sally's absence, Claire disappears with Rex Mallory and Sally and Rex follow them to the Blue Kitchen Inn. Rex says the worst that Patricia Lang's husband is doing and hurried to New York.

CHAPTER LXIX. The Shadow of Death.

The train seemed to Sally to crawl; she felt that she would never reach New York. And the thought of the distance that would still lie between her and Patricia's little apartment when she did reach town made her sigh. She looked into her pocketbook, hoping that somehow she had miscounted her money, and that an extra dollar would magically appear, so that she could take a taxi to Patricia's. But there was still just the same amount—five dollars and some change. She must make that do until she found work again.

But when she crossed the sidewalk in front of the station, and saw that she would have to wait for a car, or make her way into the subway and come out heaven knew where—for Sally had never learned to master the ways of the subway, and inevitably landed in Brooklyn when she wanted to reach the Bronx—she took a taxi anyway.

"If Pats needs me as much as she seems to, it won't make any difference whether I have money enough to see me through or not. If I get to her in time," she told herself. And Pats did need her. Crumpled up in a corner of the living room couch, her black eyes staring straight ahead of her, she was sitting like one in a daze. As Sally came into the little living room, she lifted her eyes slowly; then, with a little cry, she held out her arms. Sally sat down beside her, and Patricia leaned her head on her friend's shoulder and began to sob softly, like a forlorn child.

"What is it, dear?" Sally asked at last. "Is Gibbs—?" "It's all over," Patricia told her her voice hard and strained. "I cried all night, after they told me that he would die, and this morning, when the nurse said that he was gone, something just let go inside of me. I can't ever care about anything again, Sally. I'm through with life forever. I don't see why I have to drag along now—there isn't any use. Oh, Sally, I loved him so much!" She talked on and on, while Sally twist the color of your lighter beads. Measure a piece three times as long as the loom. Double it. Put one end of the loop into the first cut in one of the uprights. Put the other end of the loop into the next cut. The upper diagram shows you how. Create another length of silk. Double it. Put one end of the loop into the third cut, and the other end into the fourth cut. Continued to do this until all of the cuts are used. Now bring the first thread down into the first cut in the other upright end. Bring the second thread into the second cut. When you have used about one-third of the threads take them together and put them through the first hole. Pull them tight. Then put in the peg. (See the lower diagram.) This will secure them. Continue sewing the same way with the other threads. Tomorrow you may begin the pattern. R. L. RIBLER. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

THE WOMAN OF POISE.

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern, complicated life. To the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not try to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the female system of nature.
